

Newspapers See Artificial Reports On Overseas Funds

Reporters Say They Went Through Accounting System

Washington — (U) — The house public works and judiciary committees have submitted artificial reports of their 1959 spending of public funds overseas, the Knight newspapers said today.

Reporters Don Oberdorfer and Walter Pincus wrote in a copyrighted article: "These reports have sailed through the house committee accounting system into the public domain without a ripple even though the itemizations are obvious concoctions."

The committee expense reports in question cover congressional spending of counterpart funds overseas. These are currencies of foreign governments which the U. S. government owns as a result of aid and sales transactions but holds within the overseas country.

Easy for Congressmen
Two other house committees, agriculture and education and labor, did not even itemize counterpart spending by categories, the article said. It added:

"Congressmen can draw these funds freely at just about any United States embassy in the world on the say-so of a congressional committee chairman. . . . The individual congressman is required to report his counterpart spending only to his committee chairman."

"His report must say what he spent for transportation, lodging, meals and other expenses. The law requires that committee chairmen, at the end of each year, consolidate these individual reports before making them public, so nobody can see what any one congressman spent."

The article said that "in each of the 23 countries from Argentina to Sudan where members of the judiciary committee traveled, their report asserts that they spent exactly 30 per cent of their

Ike Marches With '15 Class At West Point

Receives Honorary Degree and Speaks At Notre Dame

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith
West Point, N. Y. — (U)

President Eisenhower is back among his West Point classmates of 1915 today after criticizing Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and attending a round of warm public receptions.

The president, taking part in a full day of alumni activities, changed signals and decided to fly back to Washington tomorrow morning instead of late tonight after another reunion dinner.

His program today includes the traditional march with the men of his class, a review of the cadet corps on the plain above the Hudson river, and a brief speech at an alumni luncheon.

Eisenhower arrived at the United States Military academy Saturday afternoon, then interrupted his visit yesterday to fly to South Bend, Ind., to accept an honorary degree and make the commencement address at the University of Notre Dame.

Enemies of Dignity
He returned to West Point in early evening.

At Notre Dame the president took a crack at world leaders he accused of brandishing "angry epithets, slogans and satellites."

He called them enemies of human dignity. Eisenhower didn't mention Khrushchev by name, but there was no doubt the Kremlin leader was a target. It was the second time within 48 hours that the president had jabbed at the man who has been vilifying him for the last three weeks. On Saturday night Eisenhower left the forty-fifth reunion dinner of his class and made an informal talk near West Point at a Republican banquet. He reminisced a few moments about his cadet days and then turned specifically to the Khrushchev tirades against him.

Degrees Awarded to 2,500 UW Students

Madison — (U) — More than 2,500 students received degrees today from the University of Wisconsin in commencement services held under sunny skies at Camp Randall stadium.

Advanced degrees went to about a third of the candidates. The graduating class greeted by University President Conrad Elvehjem, brought to 127,200 the total number of degrees conferred by the university since it held initial commencement for two students 106 years ago.

Jap Socialists Hope to Oust Kishi as Premier

Bloc Approves Mass Resignations in Move To Bar Visit by Ike

BY RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

Tokyo — (U) — The socialist bloc in parliament today formally approved its mass resignation in a pressure move aimed at ousting Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and washing out President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Socialist leaders hoped the mass resignation would arouse public opinion to force Kishi to dissolve parliament before the U. S.-Japan security treaty automatically takes effect June 19 — the day Eisenhower is due to arrive.

Some 700 socialists including

50 members of parliament demonstrated in front of the American embassy for about 10 minutes after the convention, asking cancellation of Eisenhower's visit. A strong cordon of police kept them from the embassy building.

New Strike Planned

The big national labor federation, Sohyo, called a national convention Wednesday and Thursday to draft plans for another strike against Kishi, the security pact and the Eisenhower visit.

The "People's Council to Block the Security Pact," spearheaded by the socialists and Sohyo, announced a timetable on its anti-government campaign emphasizing protests against the president's visit.

Included are demonstrations in front of the U. S. embassy June 10 when a White House advance party, led by Presidential Press Sec. James C. Hagerty, arrives; "May day-like" demonstrations throughout the country June 11 with 200,000 expected to take part in protest rallies around the parliament building and American embassy; a series of work stoppages June 15-17, climaxed by a strike on the 17th, and mass marches with demonstrators wearing mourning on the day Eisenhower arrives.

Kishi Stands Firm

Kishi has declared he intends to stand fast behind the invitation to the president "no matter what may come." He has said he also will not resign until after the treaty is in effect.

The left-wing socialists have only 125 members in the 467-seat lower house of the diet — not enough to legally

Pair Captured, Hostages Freed

Seized at Illinois Roadblock After Pursuit by Police

St. Louis — (U) — A man and a woman, hostages in tow, shot a policeman as their auto roared through the St. Louis area in a wild race for freedom yesterday. Their futile flight ended at a roadblock in Illinois.

Surrounded by policemen, the pair surrendered. Their hostages were released unharmed. Earlier, they had freed a third hostage, also unharmed.

Wounded was Motorcycle Patrolman David Jones, who took up pursuit of the car as it sped through the city. The fugitives fired three times at Jones and one bullet grazed his head. He wasn't hurt badly.

The fugitives were Hiller Hayes, 35, who was released from the federal prison on McNeil island, Wash., six months ago after finishing a 14-year term for a post office robbery, and Mrs. Darlene McCracken, 32, formerly of Kansas City.

Hostages Seized

Taken hostage were Robert Portell, 41, an auto salesman, St. Louis County Patrolman Harry Wilde and Wilde's mother-in-law, Mrs. Marie Schelling.

Police said Hayes and Mrs. McCracken went into a suburban Lemay auto agency and tried to buy a car with a check.

Portell had another employee check Hayes' credentials, which had been stolen. Police were called and Patrolman Wilde appeared.

He searched Hayes and then called his mother-in-law, who was working in the

Says Germany Can't Peril World Peace

Bayeux, France — (U) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, commemorating the Normandy landings 16 years ago, said today the world's new balance of power ended the threat that Germany alone could imperil the world.

"It is in Germany itself without doubt that the essential transformations have appeared, first because she remains divided to this day, and because in any event the new balance of forces in the world forbids forever that she could be, in the future, the peril that she has so cruelly, in the past, represented for each of us," he declared.

Two Killed in Fox Cities Area Accidents Sunday

Oconto Man Dies in Little Chute; Menashan Fatally Hurt at Zittau

Two men were killed and five injured in Fox Cities area accidents Sunday night. They were part of the 13-person toll taken on state highways over the weekend. Their deaths raised the 1960 state toll to 296, compared with 275 on this day a year ago.

Dead are George Draeger, 73, Oconto, and James W. Schultz, 20, 514 Broad street, Menasha.

Draeger suffered fatal injuries in a 2-car crash at Highway 41 and Washington street, Little Chute, about 8:25 p. m. His wife, Nora, 69, was taken to Appleton Memorial hospital by Larry's ambulance with severe facial lacerations. Tom Schindler, 22, route 2, Menasha, a passenger in the other car driven by Dean B. Meyer, 19, also of route 2, Menasha, suffered a bump on one knee. Meyer was unhurt.

Schultz was mortally injured when his car and an auto driven by Kenneth D. Neuman, 31, of 124 E. Lake street, Waupaca, sideswiped on Highway 110 west of Zittau about 11 p. m.

Gordon Schultz, 26, of 321 Chute street, Menasha, a passenger in his brother's car, Neuman and George Paider, 40, Scandinavia, the owner of

Court Upholds Part Of New York's Law On Longshoremen

Washington — (U) — The supreme court today upheld a section of the New York waterfront commission act which bars persons convicted of felonies from serving as officers of the longshoremen's union.

Justice Frankfurter wrote the majority opinion in the 5-3 decision. Justice Douglas dissented in an opinion in which Chief Justice Warren and Justice Black joined. Justice Harlan took no part.

Frankfurter's opinion in upholding the New York law said that the proof was overwhelming that the state "sought not to punish ex-felons, but to devise what was achieved this end was reported to be a much-needed, by Chinese sources in Havana over the weekend.

Diplomatic sources said they expect this to be augmented later by more direct means, as Cuba's links with Peiping — now limited to

New Earthquake Hits Unoccupied Region in Chile

By The Associated Press
Seismograph stations around the world reported an earthquake, probably in southern Chile, early today.

The University of Chile said the earthquake registered at 1:54 a. m. apparently occurred on virtually uninhabited Wellington island in extreme southern Chile.

Reports from Moscow, Tokyo, Washington, Cleveland and Weston, Mass., reported a strong quake.

Pressure on Chinese Cubans

Peiping Engages in Extortion Attempt

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ

Havana — (U) — Communist China is getting bolder in its moves to woo—or force—Cuba's 30,000 Chinese into the red camp. The beginning of an "extortion racket" to help Cuba achieve this end was reported to be a much-needed, by Chinese sources in Havana over the weekend.

Diplomatic sources said they expect this to be augmented later by more direct means, as Cuba's links with Peiping — now limited to commercial and cultural accords — are fortified by diplomatic relations.

Cuba and red China have not established diplomatic ties, but Cuba is expected to announce so on the termination of recognition of the Chinese nationalist regime on Formosa.

The red extortion racket resembles the one which Peiping attempted to obtain dollars from Chinese residents in the United States and other western countries.

A Chinese source here revealed a copy of a letter he said was sent to thousands of Chinese and Cubans of Chinese ancestry directly from the Overseas Chinese Returnees association of Peiping.

The letter, in Chinese, starts off with a characteristic communist blast at the U. S. government followed by an expression of sympathy for the Cuban revolution. At one point, it says that "from one realistic point of view, the strategy adopted by the Cuban revolutionary movement appears to have the stamp of Mao Tze-tung himself."

The letter then asks the recipient to fill out a brief questionnaire, including these two questions: Properly owned in the country of residence and names and addresses and relationship of relatives in China.

"With this information," the informant said, "it's easy for the communist to reach relatives of Cuban Chinese, most of whom come from the China mainland, and exert pressures on them."

With funds obtained from them, he added, the Chinese have the means to expand their operations in Latin America.

Bolivia Reelects Paz Estenssoro

Ex-President Velasco Ibarra Regains Office in Ecuador

La Paz, Bolivia — (U) — Victor Paz Estenssoro, who nationalized Bolivia's huge tin industry in 1952, rode back into the presidency today on an overwhelming vote.

The 52-year-old political veteran led the ruling pro-American nationalist revolutionary movement (MNR) to a landslide victory against three challengers.

Two of the defeated candidates shouted fraud even before all the ballots were counted in yesterday's election, which was carried out with only a smattering of violence in this Andean nation noted for turbulence. Fifty persons were killed during the campaign.

Walter Guevara Arze, 47, who broke with the MNR and formed his own authentic nationalist revolutionary movement (AMNR), and Mario Gutierrez of the Bolivian socialist falange (FSB) raised the protests as they ran neck and neck, but far back, for second place.

Hugo Gonzalez Moscosco of the Trotskyite - communist revolutionary workers party, the fourth man in the field, got only a handful of votes.

The slim, dark Paz Estenssoro went into an early lead and the outcome was never in doubt. His major support came from the largely illiterate Indian and peasant population and from the organized miners. His running mate was Juan Lechin, Bolivia's labor boss.

There were about 1,200,000 registered voters.

Fights Bear With Jackknife

Pulpwood Cutter Beats Off Animal in Michigan

Engadine, Mich. — (U) — Arthur Le Gault, a 70-year-old pulpwood cutter, fought an angry female black bear for 20 minutes yesterday before driving her off with his jackknife.

His wounds were treated today at Tahquamenon General hospital in Newberry. He suffered severe claw cuts on the back and face.

Le Gault's encounter with the medium size bear occurred in a forest near this upper Michigan community.

Le Gault, still in shock and unable to give a coherent account of the attack, said the animal attacked without warning and his only defense was a jackknife. He said the bear ripped off part of his clothing but he finally chased it away by stabbing at its eyes.

Loses Keys to Truck
In the fight Le Gault lost the keys to his truck and he had to walk a mile to his home. His wife drove him to the hospital.

Two veteran hunters, Arnold Norman and Tom Singleton, said the bear had two cubs and it appeared that Le Gault without realizing it had approached the cubs too closely and angered the mother bear. The bear ran off, avoiding the hunters.

Attacks by upper Michigan bears on humans are not frequent. A 2-year-old girl was killed and partly eaten by a bear at Mission Hill 26 miles

Final 3 Primaries In Nation Tuesday

Outcome of Vote in New York, California and South Dakota Will Not Affect Democrats

Washington — The last Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, but the division has not been determined.

Nixon Gains

Vice President Richard M. Nixon gained full delegations in Hawaii, Colorado, and Washington to boost his unofficial delegate total beyond the 800 mark, with only 668 required for the GOP presidential nomination.

The tally of Democratic delegate votes, based on primary results, state convention actions, and Associated Press polls of first ballot preferences of uncommitted delegates, now shows the following:

Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts 348, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas 135, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri 67, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota 51, Adlai E. Stevenson 23, others 176, uncommitted 289.

This adds up to 1,101 votes of the 1,521 total in the national convention.

Here is a brief outline of tomorrow's primaries, which will round out delegate picking by the primary method in 16 states and the District of Columbia:

New York Primary

New York — Each party will elect 86 district delegates with one vote each. Republicans later will name 10 at large to complete a 96-vote delegation, and Democrats will choose 56 with a half vote each to complete a 114-vote delegation, largest in the national convention.

Both delegations in New York will be uncommitted.

But Carmine G. DeSapio, Tammany Hall leader and Democratic national committeeman, predicts Kennedy will have more than a majority of the 114 Democratic votes.

The Republican delegation, though unpledged, will be ready to back Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's long-shot approach. He has said he would accept a draft, but he believes one is unlikely and agrees that Nixon's nomination "obviously is to be expected."

California — Democrats elect an 81-vote delegation; Republicans 70. A slate of Democratic delegates pledged to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, favorite son, is opposed by a slate backing Los Angeles pension promoter George McLain. A slate tied to Nixon is unopposed on the Republican ballot. The main interest here is whether Nixon can outpoll Brown.

South Dakota — Democrats elect an 11-vote delegation; Republicans 14. The Democratic slate of delegate candidates is unpledged, although it had been tied to Humphrey before his withdrawal. The Republican slate also is uncommitted, but is expected to back Nixon.

Pope Names Commissions For Council

Ecumenical Meeting Will be First in Almost a Century

Vatican City — Pope John XXIII today named German-born Agostino Cardinal Bea to head the special commission which will keep Protestants and other non-Catholic Christians informed of the work of the forthcoming ecumenical council.

The appointment was announced by the pontiff in naming the heads of the 10 commissions which will prepare for the worldwide council of the Roman Catholic church to be held within the next two or three years. It will be the first such council of the church in almost a century.

Cardinal Bea is now in the United States to receive an honorary degree from Fordham university.

Pope John will preside over the great council, which he has said will be aimed toward eventual restoration of unity of the world's Christian forces.

Preparatory Commissions
On Saturday the pope announced the jobs of the 10 preparatory commissions, and of the special secretariat to keep other Christian forces informed. Today he named the heads of the various commissions:

1. Commission to study problems pertaining to the faith and the Holy Scriptures — Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani.
2. Commission for bishops and dioceses — Marcello Cardinal Mimmi.
3. Commission for the discipline of clergy and the faithful — Pietro Cardinal Ciriaci.
4. Commission of the religious — Valerio Cardinal Valeri.
5. Commission for the discipline of sacraments — Benedetto Cardinal Aloisi Masella.
6. Commission for the sacred liturgy — Gaetano Cardinal Cicognani.
7. Commission for studies and seminaries — Giuseppe Cardinal Pizzardo.
8. Commission for eastern churches — Amleto Cardinal Cicognani.
9. Commissions for missions — Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian.
10. Commission for the lay apostolate — Fernando Cardinal Cento.

Man Electrocuted

Shullsburg — John Martin, 61, of rural Shullsburg, was electrocuted Saturday when a 24,000-volt power line, apparently snapped by a high wind, fell across his chest during a thunderstorm.

Retired C. W. O. Noel Holsman wears the uniform of the day—cap and gown. Holsman Sunday received his B.A. in History from Lewis and Clark college Portland, Ore. He is 55 and wants to be a college history teacher. With him are his adopted Korean children: Maxine, 17; Edward, 16 and Catherine, 11. He met and adopted them while serving in Korea in 1955.

Red Hospitals Inferior To U. S., Surgeon Says

Boston — A Boston surgeon who recently spent two weeks in the Soviet Union says Russian hospitals are "far inferior to ours."

Dr. Ralph A. Deterling, Jr., surgeon in chief at Pratt Diagnostic clinic-New England center hospital, said in a weekend interview the Russians are "three to four years behind us in heart surgery. They are doing some open heart surgery, but not a lot."

Dr. Deterling presented papers on open heart surgery and synthetic blood vessel grafts before the 27th all-union scientific society of surgeons in Moscow. He said Americans attending the meeting got red carpet treatment.

Rockefeller Warms Toward Nixon in Talk

Governor Still Clings to Hope For Nomination

New York — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller appears to be warming toward Vice President Richard M. Nixon as presidential timber.

At the same time, the governor is clinging to the remote possibility the Republican national convention will draft him as its presidential candidate.

This double-barreled strategy apparently is designed to: 1. Ease political coolness that has existed between Nixon and Rockefeller. If, as now generally expected, the convention nominates Nixon, this easing might help to avoid any Democratic charges that Rockefeller was a reluctant supporter of Nixon.

2. Keep Rockefeller available for the nomination if, for some reason not now foreseen, the convention decided again Nixon.

Rockefeller declared Saturday at Bismarck, N.D., that Nixon had shown "great skill, great discretion and great courage" as vice president.

Nixon has the confidence and loyalty of the Republican party, Rockefeller said during a television interview that wound up a 2-day tour of North Dakota.

He said he would campaign actively for Nixon or any other Republican nominee for president—including himself.

Rockefeller campaigned strenuously across 150 miles of North Dakota on behalf of Gov. John E. Davis, Republican candidate for senator in a special election June 28.

Republican state leaders reported themselves highly impressed with Rockefeller's grass-roots campaign techniques and his outlook on top issues. But they saw almost no possibility that the convention would reject Nixon and draft Rockefeller.

The vice president now has, by unofficial count, more than the 666-vote majority needed off a dike road in Monroe for nomination at the convention, which opens July 25 in the city of Chicago.

Ralph Bellamy Served With Summons in Suit

League of New York Theaters Files $2,500,000 Action Against Performers

New York — Ralph Bellamy, president of Actors Equity association, was served today with a summons in a $2,500,000 suit brought by the League of New York theaters against the performers union for damages suffered in the shutdown of Broadway theaters.

The summons formalized a suit which the producers organization had been threatening to file for several days. The suit is answerable in 20 days in state supreme court.

Bellamy, who arrived from Hollywood Sunday, was dressed as the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt when he received the summons. He was posing for still pictures at the Roosevelt house, one of the locations for the movie "Sunrise at Campobello," which he stars.

Expresses Hope
Bellamy expressed hope the blackout of 22 legitimate theaters would end soon, with a victory for Actors Equity.

"It doesn't make sense to close shows that are drawing 50 and 60 thousand dollars a week," he said.

There was rising optimism on both sides of the dispute as tempers cooled over the weekend, and some possibility that a solution might be reached by the end of this week.

7,000 at Rites for Mark Twain Site

Florida, Mo. — About 7,000 persons jammed into this village Sunday for the dedication of a Mark Twain shrine.

The shrine is the 2-room cabin where Samuel Langhorne Clemens was born 125 years ago. Writing as Mark Twain, Clemens attained world fame as a humorist.

"Mark Twain spoke a universal language," Gov. James T. Blair told the crowd. "He does not belong to Missouri nor to any other one place nor any one nation. He belongs to the world."

The cabin has been moved a short distance from its original location and is housed in a $250,000 modernistic museum.

The museum will contain mementoes of Mark Twain, including the original manuscript of "Tom Sawyer."

Tractor Death

Warrens — William R. Sorenson, 52, was killed Sunday when his tractor went off a dike road in Monroe county and he was pinned under the vehicle in a cranberry marsh.

U. S. Fires Back at Salvos of Criticism From Russia, Cuba

Rap Khrushchev for Attacks on Ike; Protest to Castro Regime

Washington — The United States has fired back at the increased salvos of criticism coming from Russia and Cuba.

Within a period of a few hours Saturday, the state department:

1. Said it was disgusted with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's bitter attacks on U. S. complaints would be made in good time.

2. Protested to Havana that the Fidel Castro regime was building an intense official campaign of slander against the United States. It said the Cuban government was trying to sow distrust and animosity while claiming to seek friendship and understanding.

Personal Criticism
President Eisenhower, without naming Khrushchev, also hit back at the personal criticism of him which has been flowing out of Moscow.

In a commencement address Sunday at the University of Notre Dame, he deplored as "the enemies of human dignity" the leaders who "brandish angry epithets, slogans and satellites."

Earlier, Eisenhower had said in a talk at West Point, N.Y., that Khrushchev's "ill-tempered expressions" had made the western alliance stronger than ever. That time he did mention the Soviet leader by name.

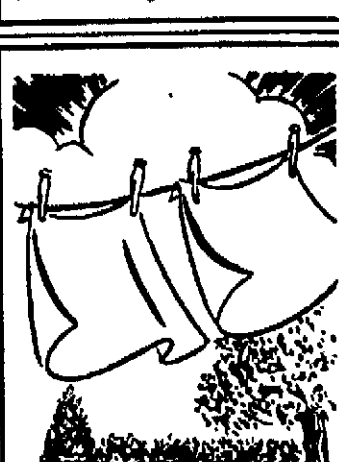

The weekend statement issued by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter through the state department was aimed directly at Khrushchev and his "personal attempts at vilification." It said:

Shares Disgust
"All America, I am sure, shares the disgust I feel at the ill-tempered attacks emanating from Mr. Khrushchev. His remarks reflect credit neither on himself nor on his government."

There was no immediate Soviet reaction to the statements by Eisenhower and Herter.

But the Russian attacks on U. S. political leaders were extended to include New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. The newspaper Soviet

BED WETTING

Bed wetting among children is a very common and embarrassing condition, and many is the child who is punished repeatedly for this offense, who is actually suffering from a condition over which he has no control.

A Chiropractor realizes that the cause of this condition is a weakness of the muscles guarding the opening of the bladder. This is present because the nerve fibers supplying them with the power of relaxation and contraction are impinged where they pass through the spine. The Chiropractor does the only scientific thing to do; he adjusts the vertebrae that is causing pressure on the nerves leading to the muscles of the bladder and as a consequence the muscles regain the proper tone and strength in the natural, normal way. By removing the cause of this condition, the Chiropractor brings about permanent results.

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — Although the house interior and insular affairs subcommittee on Indian affairs today reported out a watered down, "omnibus" Menominee Indian bill, Rep. Melvin R. Laird, author of four Menominee bills, served notice that he would attempt to persuade the full committee to accept the original provisions of his measures.

"When the full committee meets on the Menominee legislation, I shall ask them to amend it to provide full reimbursement to the Indians for cost of termination as was allowed in one of my bills," Laird declared. "The subcommittee, in combining all of my four bills into one measure, cut the reimbursement provision 50 per cent."

"The effect of this action would be that the Menominee tribe would have to pay one half of the termination costs from the years 1954 to 1958, for which they already have received full payment," he continued. "This means there would be an assessment of tribal members in excess of $100,000."

Termination Date

Other changes made by the committee in the Laird legislation was placing the termination date at July 1, 1961, instead of permitting the department of interior to decide when termination should take place.

"The majority of the subcommittee members informed me that they feel that because congress handled the termination date in the first place, it should be required to continue to assume responsibility in this matter," Laird said.

The subcommittee also completely rejected the provisions in the Laird bill which would authorize the granting of federal loans to the corporation being established by the tribe. The congressman said he would seek to have this provision restored.

The subcommittee accepted the provisions of the Laird bill which would relieve the tribe from the need to pay federal stamp taxes on the issuance of common stock in the new corporation, income bonds, and deeds of conveyance from the secretary of interior.

Laird presented his bills to the subcommittee Tuesday, and action on them came only two days later. He said if the full interior committee would not accept his recommendations, he would seek to amend the measure on the floor of the house.

Old Sand Traps are Being removed from the bottom of Erb park swimming pool to eliminate leaks. When the pool was built in 1940-41 there was a sand beach around it and the traps were needed to catch sand washed off swimmers so it would not go into the filter system. Last year the pool closed early because the water bill was reaching $2,000 a month, compared to the normal $350 to $400. New grates will be put over filter system intakes. Doing some of the work are street department workers Donald Lockery, standing, and George Driessen. The pool is scheduled to open June 10.

The Golden Years

Retirement Is Time To Discard Troubles

BY THOMAS COLLINS

"My husband has sold his business and retired. With the down payment he got from the business we made the down payment on a $20,000 home and are now carrying an $8,000 mortgage.

"We also own a cottage in Florida that we bought for $12,000. We still have a $6,000 mortgage on it. We rent this cottage out for $100 a month and use this $100 to pay taxes, insurance and mortgage payments on the cottage.

"We figure that our $20,000 home is costing us $125 a month plus $300 a year in taxes and insurance. Our annuities take care of this.

Loan, Not Mortgage

"My husband, thinking we should have some investment property, took part of the money from the sale of his business and bought a piece of real estate in Arizona. He thought we should not have a third mortgage on our hands so he borrowed $6,000 from the bank to enable him to buy the Arizona property outright. We are paying off this loan at $75 a month and hope to rent out the Arizona property for $150 a month."

This letter, which makes you tired even to read it, is typical of the financial knot many people insist on tying around themselves when they retire. Many people seem never to realize that one of the great rewards of retirement is to be rid of all such fiddle-faddle.

In the lives that most of us live nowadays the mechanics of living are burden enough without taking on mortgage payments.

Dump Nuisances

Here are five of the major nuisances of life in retirement, and while few people can escape them all it behooves any person reaching 65 to see which ones can be dumped.

1. Utility bills. Paying phone, light, gas and fuel bills every month is one of the curses of mankind. Paying real estate taxes is no fun either. A rented apartment in which utilities are included in the rent eliminates this batch of bills.

2. An automobile, for the retired couple in a city where cabs can be called and automobiles can be rented, is a bother. There are gas and oil, grease jobs and repairs, license tags and city stickers, liability and other insurance, and flat tires. Is this what retirement was meant for?

Credit Dangerous

3. Credit is not for retirement. It is dangerous to be in debt on a pension. Apart from this, it is much simpler to pay for what you buy and be done with it than to be mailing somebody a check the first of every month.

4. This one is for the women. Dust, as any woman 60 years old knows, falls on the just and the unjust alike. Why spend your retirement dusting? Clear out the dust catchers. Replace the carpets with floor tile. And start replacing your wardrobe with wash-and-wear clothing.

5. Is eating really worth all this trouble? Paper plates aren't so bad after 65. Canned and frozen foods aren't either. And a dishwasher along with an automatic incinerator that will dispose of your trash wouldn't cost too much.

Unique Life

The chores cited in these five points won't kill anybody. But retirement is a unique segment of life. It should provide freedom to explore new worlds and seek new adventures. With some sadness I watch many retired couples absorbing their lives with the sort of things represented in the five points. They prolong and expand the household chores and the mechanics of workaday living, often because they have nothing else to do.

Bank Taxation Issue May Become Election Point

Governor Nelson Set Up Platform Which Democrats Feel Is Best

BY JOHN WINGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The voter who intends to be listening can look forward to much talk about bank taxation during the fall election campaign that will determine the make-up of the state legislature and the governorship for the next two years.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson set up a campaign platform that most Democrats feel is one of the best they can offer in their bid for complete control of the state government.

The issue has been knocked around legislative halls for many years. Only recently, however, has it attained major status as the result of the forceful embrace of Nelson and the Democratic strategy command.

Higher Burdens
The Democratic party argument is that, in an era of higher burdens for the taxpayer, it is unfair to permit a bank tax system to continue that permits some of the largest financial institutions of the state to pay only nominal state corporation income taxes, and others to escape that levy altogether.

Repeatedly the governor's office has pressed the fact that some of the largest banks have paid no returns whatever for many years, an examination of their income tax returns shows.

Little Debate
There was comparatively little debate about the situation in the recent final session of the legislature. Republicans voting against the governor's demand merely said they were following the governor's own advisory commission, which has said that more study of the complex bank tax issue is needed. In any event, they added, the governor's advisory commission is working out a plan for the revision of taxes that will include a consideration of all other "tax sheltered" or "tax-favored" organizations.

The essential argument of the organized bankers, as they have made it in other hearings over the years, is that their privileges are no greater than those of other persons buying substantial amounts of U. S. government securities.

Their apparently favored position under present laws relate to the fact that income from such government paper is not taxable under the state income tax laws. They are thereupon able to deduct their gross expenses from a comparatively smaller total of net earnings from other sources. Other government bond investors, including corporations and individual capitalists, enjoy exemptions from state taxation on their U. S. security earnings also, they say.

Doubt Legality
Banks also argued in other challenges in the past that it would be unfair to burden them with additional state tax liability, without imposing similar levies upon their principal competitors, including the savings and loan associations that have expanded rapidly and now are heavy competitors for the banks in the attraction of savings from depositors.

Democratic administration lawyers were doubtful of the legality of a bill that would attempt to tax government bond earnings directly. Thus

Proxmire Plans To Continue To Fight for Bong

Washington — Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) plans to continue his fight to get the 5,700 acre Richard Bong air force base near Kansasville, Wis., turned over to Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin senator said at a news conference he will incorporate in a bill a suggestion by the state's attorney general, John W. Reynolds, that the federal government turn over the land to the state in lieu of other land it owes to the state.

Proxmire said that many years ago the government took over Wisconsin land for Indian reservations and forests. The federal government was to set aside sections in each township it acquired for school purposes.

State authorities contend that the land the federal government owes Wisconsin is well in excess of the area involved at the Bong base.

Proxmire contends that such a transfer is feasible.

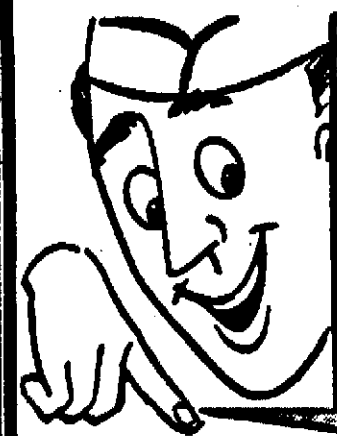

they devised the graduated franchise tax, which achieves the same effect by indirect means. A franchise tax is a tax on the right to do business by a chartered corporation.

The franchise tax device also met the challenge of discrimination by the bankers in that it also proposes to cover the competing savings and loan associations.

Political Allies
The Nelson legislative proposal had the effect, among others, of making into political allies the banks and the savings and loan associations for the first time.

Legislators have heard reports that both organizations will launch a counterattack if the Democratic campaign concentrates upon the franchise tax issue. Both have retained public relations services, according to such accounts.

Meanwhile a subcommittee of the so-called "blue ribbon" tax advisory committee is continuing its study of alternative tax laws that would extract some income from other organizations and corporations historically favored under the income tax statutes, including cooperatives, mutual insurance companies, credit unions, as well as banks and savings and loan companies.

LaFave Raps Failure To Pass Sticker Bill

Accuses Nelson of 'Doubletalk' At Campers, Hikers State Parley

Kaukauna—Lashing out at what I call a lot of double-talk," the senator charged. LaFave reviewed the history of the bill which he be-Oconto accused Gov. Gaylord Nelson of "a lot of double-talk" over the issue in a talk here Saturday.

LaFave spoke to about 150 members of the National Campers and Hikers association gathered for the state convention. The 3-day parley was held on the Grignon home grounds.

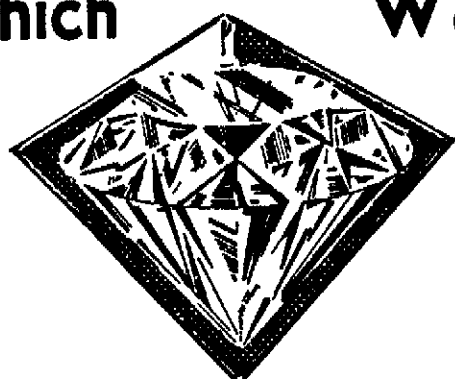

The Oconto Republican said Nelson came out in press releases favoring the $2 sticker fee plan. However, when the measure came up for action, Nelson had its "lieutenants" lobbying against it, LaFave claimed. Eventually the bill died in the senate after it had passed the assembly by a 37-35 margin.

Worked for Defeat LaFave said that Gov. Nelson's personal secretary, William Fairchild, worked to see that the sticker bill was defeated.

"When the governor comes out in a press release saying he favors the sticker fee and then has his personal secretary lobby against it—that's

Campers Back $2 Sticker Fee Park Plan

Kaukauna—A resolution giving unanimous support to the $2 sticker fee plan for state parks was approved by the National Campers and Hikers association of Wisconsin at the state convention here over the weekend.

The resolution was passed Sunday after the NCHA chapter had heard Sen. Reuben LaFave of Oconto blast the legislature and Gov. Gaylord Nelson for failure to pass the bill. LaFave spoke to the group Saturday.

Roman Koenitz, superintendent of the state parks and forests spoke Saturday night and outlined the program to be followed this year. He pointed out that the lack of sufficient funds will limit the work that can be accomplished. Koenitz said the staff at Peninsula State park has had to be cut from 15 to seven full-time employees.

Cooperation By-Word With Happy Camper

Miniature Village In Kaukauna for State Convention

BY JIM HARP

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Kaukauna — Campers, no matter their numbers, are like one happy family.

Each individual group is a molded unit and stands ready to give assistance to a fellow camper in need. Cooperation is a by-word with them and few other outdoor recreational activities offer the opportunities for family "togetherness" that camping does.

This was one of the most apparent characteristics that stood out at the state convention of the National Campers and Hikers association at the Grignon home grounds here Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Miniature Village Late Friday evening house trailers, camping trailers and cars packed with tents and equipment began to arrive.

By Saturday afternoon the number of individual units had swelled to nearly 100 and a miniature village popped up on the historic site. Practically every type of camping unit was included in layout. There were long modern house trailers, compact mobile homes, folded camping trailers that open with roomy accommodations and the ordinary tent. A favorite pastime with campers is to wander about, meeting old friends they have made at campgrounds and look at new ideas and innovations that have been adapted to make camping more enjoyable.

Self-styled Handyman Very often the camper is a self-styled handyman with various tricks and gadgets that he has worked on through the winter and tries out during the camping season. Sharing these ideas is a means by which the campers become a unified group of friends.

A most noticeable effect on camping has been made by the use of lightweight aluminum. Fold-up, knockdown tables, chairs and lounges are common. Many of the tent poles and shade extension supports are made of aluminum. A camper explained that the aluminum offers strength while it is light in weight and can be made compact so it is easy to transport.

Rapidly growing in popularity are camping and camper organizations. Attendance at

Reds Open Research Archives to Students

New York — For the first time since the United States - Russian student exchange program started in 1958, the Soviet Union has opened its university research archives to American students.

The policy change was announced by Prof. David C. Munford, chairman of the inter-university committee on travel grants at Columbia university.

Munford said the switch resulted from a combination of pressure by American students, steady negotiations, and a feeling of "embarrassment" on the part of Soviet scholars questioned on the matter.

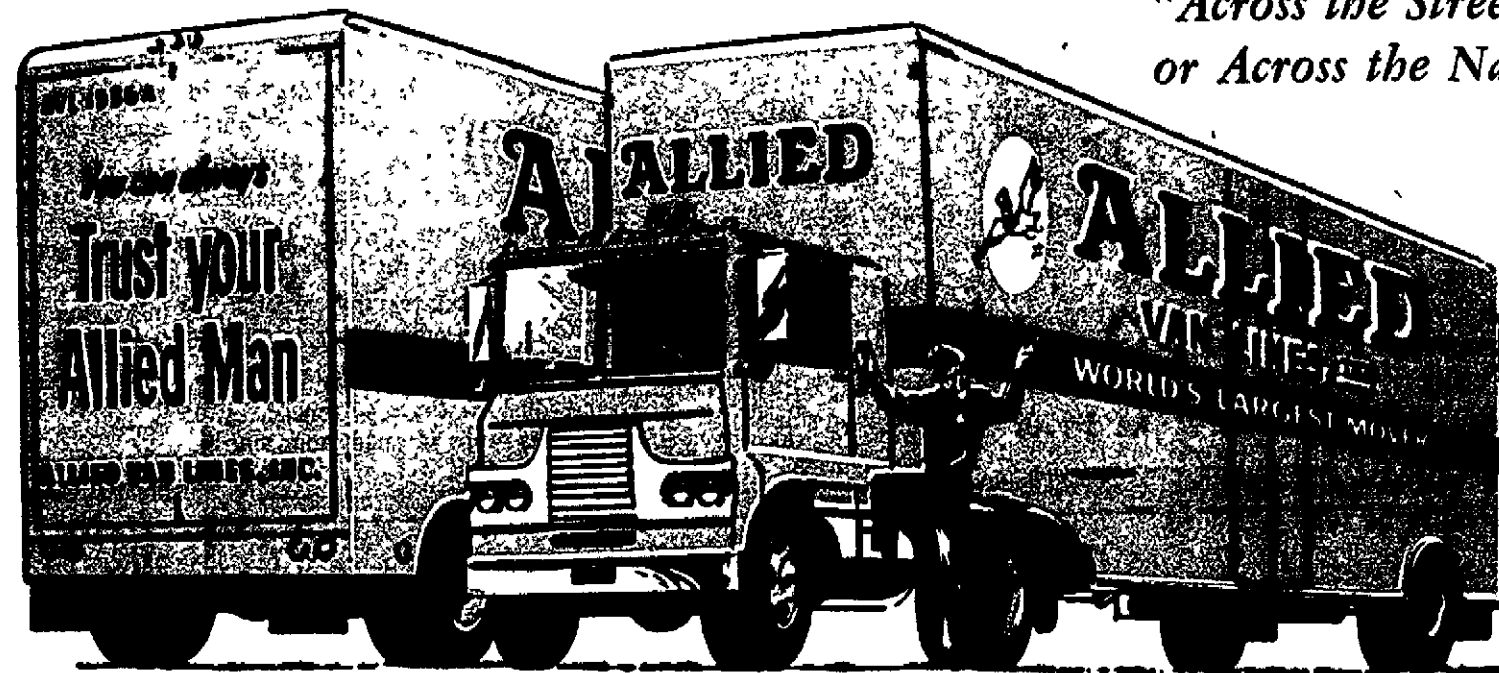

The convention included campers from as far south as Waukesha and north to Stephenson, Mich.

Many interested residents of the Fox Cities visited the site over the weekend to see what it is that lures families to camping. A number found out that when the "camping bug" bites his "sting" is there to stay.

One of the highlights of the 3-day event was a group supper Saturday evening. Each family brought food to a big picnic area and the campers ate together.

Expense Records Should be Public

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) acted wisely in opening House expense records to the press and the public. His action became necessary because House Clerk Ralph R. Roberts had closed the records to newsmen after he discovered that two of them were copying the records and photographing some of them. Roberts said he had acted under an old House rule requiring him to keep the files private unless the House ordered otherwise.

Do We Need the Whip?

A common pleas judge in Philadelphia recommends a whipping post to reform young hoodlums. The jurist must have allowed his displeasure at juvenile crime to overcome his good judgment, for it is difficult to find evidence of clear thinking in such a declaration.

Throwback

The mountain men of another century are gone and so, too, is the last frontier in the United States. But there still are lonely wanderers who live in the vast reaches of almost uninhabited land far to the north. Such a man is Matt Murphy, now over 70, who has spent the last 35 years in a small cabin near Musk Ox Lake, not far from the shores of the Arctic ocean.

investigating charges of violation of election laws and the Hatch act. The bills submitted by the congressmen may have been proper in most instances. Nevertheless many members of Congress including Rep. Burleson and Speaker Rayburn have indicated they entertain some suspicion of cheating in these expense accounts. They have indicated they will tighten up in the future, but all indications are that the business of Congressional expense accounts soon will be back in the old routine.

Deferred Money Bills

Anger Mr. Wyngaard

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Madison — When this chronicler was a college boy there was a cloak and suit merchant near the campus who used to announce his willingness to outfit the impetuous for a dollar down "and the rest when I catch you."

For reasons not wholly clear, the memory of this intrepid entrepreneur returned the other day when I watched the legislature passing appropriation bills that won't become effective for more than a year, and consequently will be made good — if they are made good — by another legislature not yet elected.

No more ingenious or cynical hanky-panky in the legislative arena has been perpetrated in the memory of the oldest hands in the gallery. It is the time payments gimmick of the commercial world introduced into government. It is like the fellow who buys a television without a down payment, on credit, and arranges that his son upon reaching his majority shall be liable for it. It is generosity without responsibility. It is vote-buying, straight, literal, without apology.

THE INVENTION
Legislators scarcely tried to hide their grins when somebody moved amendments to appropriation bills before them to make the effective date of the expenditure authorization in a future year.

Ann Recommends Tact With Gent Who Dyes His Gray Hair

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: How can I tell the man I'm going with to stop dyeing his hair? It looks awful. He thinks he looks younger but he actually looks older because the jet black hair doesn't go with the lines in his face.
 This man is 53 and has never married. He's quite good-looking and takes great pride in his appearance. His young brother, strikingly handsome, has steel gray hair. Kermit would be handsome with gray hair, too, but he doesn't realize it.
 He has never admitted that his hair is dyed, so you see I have a touchy problem. Furthermore, I'm afraid he's dyeing it himself. When he has a fresh job there are dye stains along the hairline. Once he had some on his ear.
 Please, Ann, tell me if I should tell him. And if so, how?
 —M. Q.
Dear M. Q.: Tell him—but in a very careful way.

There's no point in demolishing the guy.
 Here's a suggested approach: When you spot a gray hair (one or two are bound to be fugitives from the dye brush) exclaim with delight "Oh, Kermit! You've got a gray hair. How marvelous! I can hardly wait till you get completely gray. You'll be so distinguished looking and handsome!"
DEAR ANN: We have two children and I would have left my husband years ago if it weren't for them.
 The problem is, Harvey's mother gives him money whenever he wants it (she has plenty) and he won't work. He hasn't held a job longer than a year since we were married ten years ago. He finds something wrong with the boss, his co-workers or the climate. Then he quits and we move. His mother always comes through with a few thousand dollars "to tide us over."
 I've told her she's wrecking our marriage by giving her son money. She says, "He's all

I have in the world. He's entitled to the money. His father earned it." What can I do?—Married to a Boy.
Dear Married (If you can call it that): A man who becomes utterly dependent on crutches will never learn to walk alone.
 Tell your husband you have self-respect, even if he hasn't. Refuse flatly to live on his mother's hand-outs.
 Invite him to go to work and stay at it or move out. Then insist on child-support. I'm not suggesting a divorce, but a separation may grow him up.
DEAR ANN: I'm 17 and feel 90. I'm in love with a fellow who works at a gas station near our house. He talked me into proving my love which was a big mistake. A few weeks ago I thought I was in trouble and told him. He called me a dumb bunny and said he wasn't going to get married to anybody regardless.
 I was a lot luckier than I deserve because I was not in the trouble I thought. When I told him he got real sweet again and even bought me a box of candy.
 I have a chance to go to college in the fall as my aunt lives in a city where there is a good state university. My boy friend says if I go, we are through. I suppose I'm foolish, but I love him very much and I don't want to lose him. Please help me.—Ardis.
(P. S. We get along fine now.)
Dear Ardis: This boy has demonstrated that he's a no-good heel. If you continue to see him, much less let him rob you of a chance to get a college education, you deserve whatever you get—which I promise will not be good.

Instant Hair Coloring
 Do you know that gray hair will wash out, it will not fade on the head. Application is unbelievably easy and quick, as the color is ready-mixed and transferred to the hair directly from the bottle. Freshly shampooed hair is towel-dried until just damp and the rinse is distributed all over the head. The hair then is combed through and without the usual water rinsing, it is set. Actually it is a sit-up proposition, without muddle or drip.
 For the woman who wishes to glorify gray hair, rather than change its color, silver platinum and steel shades are available. And all provide the definition and luster that makes for a striking head.
 So there's no need to weep as the gray strands appear.

Puzzle—Where's the Air Conditioner?
 This summer's air conditioning will be partly invisible. In many a room where it's gratefully felt, it's not easy to see because it hides behind a disguised and only slightly projecting rectangle on the wall, which may be located almost anywhere. In this room, the air conditioner's cover-up is the bulletin board that any sun parlor, which I would pre-fer to call a den or TV room. This type of air conditioner is a built-in that can be invisibly. How can I make this stalled in both new and existing buildings. A section of the house look wider? We wall is either left open for it to go through, that opens from it into the living and thus there's no problem of window adjustment and larger window in the living curtaining. The baffle can be painted or papered to match rather high windows. Since the wall, or covered with a house is Colonial and our furnishings are traditional, a large modern window might not look right, so what type of window do you suggest? What do you think about using wood slat blinds in the den although cloth blinds are used everywhere else? A diagram is enclosed to show the two rooms.

 A simple widener of the narrow room would be a striped floor covering, with the stripes parallel to the shorter walls, and this can also be a floor covering that will help to create the room effect you want. Locate the heavy furniture at the end farthest from the door. Shades for the den windows needn't match others. Large plain windows are styled into all kinds of rooms today, but you might also consider a bay for your living room.
 Mrs. T. G. "I bought a new tall lamp to go on the long cabinet in our living room that contains our hi-fi and records. Should the three pictures that hang on the wall in a row over the cabinet be raised so the tops of the frames are level with the top of the lamp shade?"
 If raising the pictures to the lamp shade top level will make them look too separated from the cabinet—as it probably will—they are better left in their present positions. It is always best to relate pictures definitely to the furniture below it, and the most common picture hanging fault is locating them too high.

Add Braid, It's New

SEAMS TO ME
 By Patricia Scott
 There is no need for me to tell any of you how important braid has become in the past year. You see braid of all types on jackets, coats, boleros and just about any piece of clothing suitable.
 Most patterns don't call for a braid trim, but this doesn't mean it can't be used. You know whether or not you would like to see this striking trim on something you plan to make. If you think it's right for braid, then go ahead and add it.
 Put on brain by machine with hand finishing, or if you prefer, completely by hand. The instructions I'm giving you are for a jacket with collar and revers (illustration) but you can apply them to your individual style.
 First, measure the amount of braid you will need. For this jacket, I suggest silk braid three-quarters inch to one inch wide and silk thread. The thread must match exactly.
 By machine: Carefully pin the half-width of braid along edge of one side of jacket, mitering corners. Cut braid when you come to the V of notch collar and revers leaving one-half inch excess. Then start pinning a new piece at this point, again allowing one-half inch at the beginning. Be sure to keep these raw edges from fraying by running a few tiny hand stitches across the width of the braid just beyond the point where you will turn it under.
 Before you start machine stitching, you will have to miter the corners and finish the notch by hand. Using tiny slits, turn under the raw ends at the notch parallel to the front edges as shown in the illustration. When this is done, set your machine at 12 to 15 stitches per inch and stitch carefully, close to the edge around the entire jacket. Turn remainder of braid over to other side, pin, miter, slip-stitch this edge all around by hand using the machine stitching line as your guide. Finish by pressing with a warm iron and using press cloth to avoid shine.
 By Hand: On one side, pin braid to edge of jacket, the same way as it was done in the other method. When all binding is pinned on one side, turn remainder to other side, pin the same way, and baste through all thicknesses to hold binding firmly to jacket. Both sides should now be even. Use tiny slip-stitches to finish, especially when mitering corners. Turn the raw ends at the notch; press.

Civic Ballet Efforts Win Appreciation

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Of all the lively arts, ballet is the most exacting, the one demanding the greatest dedication. Considering the strenuous requirements, one is moved to wonder if the cost is worth the gamble.

Saturday night at the Appleton High school auditorium the Appleton Civic Ballet staged evidence that no matter what the dancers think, their efforts add mightily to the entertainment and cultural wealth of the Fox Cities.

The corps' production Saturday was Mrs. Robert Lemke's 3-act "Red Riding Hood." The corps, to be sure, is not the Ballet Theater and Mrs. Lemke would be the first to admit she is not a Ballanchine or Robbins, but on their level the effort was more than adequate.

Airy Confection

The pas de trios in the first act by "Red," Mary Ellen Cornelius and her two friends, Lana Lemke and Linda Schoenberger, was a delightfully airy confection and Barbara Notebaart scored with her effortless turn as the mother.

Miss Notebaart also produced a highpoint in the second act in her bluebird role and the pas de trios by Miss Notebaart, Chris Le Dain as a spectacular butterfly and Helen Dixon as a wild rose was a major reason for the artistic heights of the ensemble number in the woods.

However, the real crowd catchers were the bunnies by Sharon Hay and Marilyn Jesse and the wolf magnificently done with high good humor by Mrs. Albert Lamb.

Mrs. Lemke, as all good directors should, pushed her company to its limit and it is to her credit and that of the corps' monitors, Miss Notebaart and Miss Jesse, the production achieved a quality perhaps beyond expectations.

Combination Event

The evening, a combination of a Breinig Lemke studio recital and the Civic Ballet production, was a sort of panorama of the evolution of a dancer.

The extended program included toddling efforts by youngsters dwarfed by their powder-puff ballet skirts, angular rhythms by long-legged hoofers and the first flicker of skill and appreciation by ballerinas a step away from the Civic corps.

In addition to the bright spots for the individual families and the involuntary comic moments, there were some highpoints for disinterested members as well.

Solo Numbers

Three were solo numbers by Miss Cornelius, light and controlled, Miss Schoenberger, coolly perfect, and Miss Notebaart in a delightfully classic interpretation of "Swan Lake" that was the pinnacle of the evening.

Others were quite modern rhythmic pieces performed by an energetic quartet of Carol Beaman, Bette Lou Nabbefeld, Ann Reetz and Barbara Rickert.

A running time for a show of this type appearing to be near the length of preparation seems to be a stock arrangement, but future shows might be brightened by care against annoying surface noise on the accompanying records and, perhaps, an arrangement with fond photographing parents to use electronic devices instead of flash bulbs that blind the audience and could not be much help to the dancers.

Reflections at the Senior Dance

BY JEAN HAMMOND

"Enchanted Sea" was the theme. Riverview Country Club was complete with fishnet and bubbling fountains. Lobster shells. An old sea chest. But more than the sea was enchanted.

They enter slowly at first, these newly graduated high school seniors and the juniors who entertain them. They walk gracefully on high heels and take the arms of their white coated escorts. Inside the door the chaperones sit and watch with wistful expressions.

"I don't remember the girls being this pretty when I graduated," a man whispers to his wife.

"Nor the boys being so young," his wife shakes her head.

A young woman with pink flowers in her hair walks past in a cloud of pink dress. Her blond hair is neat and curly and she carries about her an aura of beauty. She is typical of all the girls. Gone, for the moment at least, are Bermuda shorts and tennis shoes. These girls are suddenly young ladies, full of the bloom of youth and the promise of womanhood. It is touching to watch them reach out tentatively toward the future.

The orchestra begins and the couples glide onto the floor. Everywhere there are flowers; yellow daisies, pink rosebuds, gardenias, carnations, orchids. They are worn in a girl's hair, at her waist, or on her wrist. They either match or complement her dress and sometimes the boy's carnation is the color of the girl's gown.

The dresses are a rainbow moving to the rhythm of music. There is pale blue organ-dy and satin and shoes dyed to match. White eyelet with a pink satin sash. A sophisticated black and white lace with a black lace stole.

But the real beauty is not in the gowns. It lies in the young people themselves. They stand at the threshold of independence at this moment, looking both forward and back. Past and future come together in a few golden moments. Cautiously, and at the same time eagerly, they step forward. The skin of adolescence is not easily shed, and they will retreat a step for every two they advance. Childhood is over; adulthood is not yet begun. For this night life is a rosy glow of past accomplishment and future dreams.

Tomorrow things will be different. Some will take the step forward into marriage. Some will go on to college. Others will take a temporary job that will last all their

Flapping Ears Help at Bridge Table

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The etiquette books tell us that listening in on other people's conversation is in poor taste. Don't let that stop you at the bridge table; you can learn a lot by letting your ears flap wide while the opponents talk.

West led the king of spades, and South began to piece together what he had heard from the opponents. West's bidding indicated five cards in each of the black suits. This would give East four spades and a singleton club, which agreed with his bidding.

East's double of four hearts almost surely indicated four trumps to the king. East could not have much strength since he had passed at his first turn and had raised to only three spades at his second turn. He would hardly feel confident enough to double four hearts if he had only three trumps.

This accurate picture of the opposing hands helped South find the right line of play. He ruffed the opening lead, led a trump to dummy's ace, ruffed a spade, and got to dummy's

Mrs. Kenyon Hoile

Pair Weds In Double Ring Rite

Miss Carol Mae Stecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stecker, 812 W. Spring street, became the bride of twice in diamonds to ruff dummy's other two spades.

Declarer then cashed the king and jack of diamonds. East had to follow suit, and West couldn't ruff for lack of trump. By this time East was reduced to three trumps and the singleton club, and South had taken the first nine tricks.

South led a low club, and West won with the queen. West led his last spade, hoping that declarer would make the mistake of ruffing in dummy, but South discarded from dummy to avoid the trap.

East had to ruff and then had to let dummy win a trick with the queen of trumps. This was declarer's tenth trick—all because he listened to what was being said.

Kenyon Jay Hoile, 601½ E. Calumet street, at 4 p.m. Saturday at St. Paul Lutheran church. The Rev. F. M. Brandt officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Jane Stecker, as maid of honor, Miss Carol Gast and Mrs. Dolores Kleist, Marinette, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Deborah Kleist, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Best man for the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hoile, Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, was Donald Kleist, Marinette, his brother-in-law. Ronald Breitrack and Donald Buxton, both of Appleton, were groomsmen and Robert and James Schultz, cousins of the bride, shared ushering duties. Jeffery Bergsbaken, cousin of the bride, was junior attendant.

The VFW hall was the setting for the dinner, reception and dance.

Mrs. Hoile is an alumnus of Appleton High school and is employed at Valley Iron Works company. Her husband attended Appleton High school and also is employed at Valley Iron Works company.

The couple will reside at 601½ E. Calumet street when they return from a wedding trip to Milwaukee.

Pale Colors Suitable For Bride

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married in two months and is shopping around for a wedding dress. The manager of a very exclusive bridal shop here has practically convinced her to choose a wedding dress in pastel color—which she says is very modern. I am very much against this and think that colored wedding dresses are for second brides only. As this is my daughter's first marriage I think she should wear white and that she will bring criticism upon herself if she wears a color.

Answer: A bride marrying for the first time suitably wears a white dress. However, the propriety of the colored wedding dress your daughter is thinking of, depends entirely on what is meant by a pastel color. If the dress has an almost imperceptible accent of blue or pink, it would be quite all right—especially if she is past 30 when a dead white can be very unflattering to her skin. A definite pink or blue, on the other hand, would suggest a second marriage and would not be proper.

Wedding Invitation

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married next month and would like to invite the clergyman who will officiate at the ceremony to the reception, which is being held at a hotel. Do I send him an engraved invitation or do I invite him personally?

Answer: If he is married, you would send an invitation addressed to the Rev. and Mrs. If he is not married, you would invite him personally when you make arrangements for the wedding.

Show Appreciation

Dear Mrs. Post: What should I do in return for shower parties being given for me? Do I give presents to the hostesses, or what?

Answer: Further than saying, "Thank you" and showing your appreciation, nothing is expected of you. At least, not until perhaps the occasion arises when you can do something for any one of them in return.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-15, entitled, "Manners in Public," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

question. I am venturing to ruminate on what is the job of dealing with the Russians.

Once his availability for game by telling your opponent president in American political terms has been established, among the first questions I would ask a candidate is whether he had ever played the game of chess. For chess being stubborn, which some is, as we know, the national game of Russia.

It is the kind of game which in its basic intellectual requirements is remarkably like high strategic and political action. In chess the forces are at the beginning exactly equal and the problem is to move the pieces, anticipating the moves of your opponent, so that you employ superior force at the point of decision. No one can play chess without strong pieces, any more than a statesman can succeed without strong forces. But the game is to outwit your opponent by the way you move the pieces.

Can't be Stubborn

You cannot win a chess game by telling your opponent the spectators that your own white pieces are obviously purer and nobler than his sinister black pieces. Nor can you win a chess game by being stubborn, which some is, as we know, the national game of Russia.

When you are playing chess, you can feint and you can conceal your plan. But you cannot, as in the national game of poker, sweep the board by a big bluff.

Nor is chess like our other national game, golf, where your opponent never interferes with your shot, where it would be discourteous of him to interfere with your shot, and where what you are trying for is a bloodless and mindless abstraction, something better or not much worse than par for the course.

There are among us some who think that dealing with the Russians is not like chess, which is a matching of forces and of wits, but rather like prizefighting, wrestling, or football. The best job, they feel, will be done by the man who has shown that he can talk back and that, to come back to chess, he will never move his pieces in any direction except forward. They misjudge the game that is being played. They misjudge the kind of struggle we are in.

Requires Skill

What the struggle calls for is not stubbornness. Any fool can be stubborn. The struggle requires skill, shrewdness, sagacity, and imagination in seeing things as they are, and what can be made of them. The struggle cannot be won by absent and absentminded men. It can be won only by men whose attention in all their waking hours is concentrated on the situation — as was Churchill's and Roosevelt's in conducting the war.

For myself, I do not visualize the job of dealing with the Russians as the job of meeting Mr. K. at Camp David or in Paris or in Moscow, and of engaging Mr. K. in a debate. We shall not be looking for a candidate to go to the summit. For the job of dealing with the Russians does not mean going to the summit.

It means primarily, if I may put it this way, to stay in Washington, to stay in the White House in close and continual contact with the men who are responsible for the national defense, who are responsible for the maintenance and improvement of all the elements of American national power and for our foreign relations. Good intentions, sincerity, charm, and magnetism are, so to speak,

Theodore Schumacher of Sheboygan.

Passenger Hospitalized

Schultz, the 10th highway fatality in Winnebago county this year compared with nine at this time last year, was dead on arrival at Theda Clark hospital, Neenah. His passenger was taken to Theda Clark by a passing motorist. He is reported in "good" condition today with a head injury, possible fractured nose, lacerations about the face and head, multiple bruises on the arms and shock.

Neuman and Paider were taken to Waupaca Memorial hospital by the Bauer ambulance, Fremont. Both may have suffered internal injuries. Neuman had fractured ribs, fractured left little finger, lacerations about the face and arms and abrasions and contusions of the legs. Paider had fractured ribs, lacerations of the face and arms and abrasions and contusions of the legs and chest.

Paider owns the Uptown bar in Waupaca and Neuman is his bartender. They were returning from a Braves game attended by Paider's bowling team.

Coming From Orihula

Gordon Schultz said he and his brother left the Orihula dance hall about 10:30 p.m. and that his brother had consumed 10 or 12 beers. He could not give details of the accident because he was asleep at the time. Winnebago police could not question the other persons involved because of their medical conditions.

The Draeger accident was witnessed by an Outagamie county patrolman and a Little Chute policeman. His death was the seventh in Outagamie county this year.

Assistant Little Chute Police Chief Robert Nechodom said Draeger was driving east on 41 and the Meyer car was going west attempting to turn onto Washington street. The cars came together, according to Nechodom, just across the center line in Meyer's traffic lane.

Saw Car Coming

Meyer told police he was going to turn on Washington street when he saw the other car. "I could see he was on our side and he skidded into us," Meyer said.

The accident was witnessed by Outagamie County Patrolman Calvin Spice and Little Chute Policeman Robert Bruyette had just answered a call at the May-Nor bar on 41 and were standing outside when the two cars came together.

Deputy County Coroner Dr. Joseph Benton said Draeger died of crushing chest injuries.

This was Little Chute's second traffic fatality of the year. A Green Bay woman was killed in a 2-car crash on Highway 41 in February.

Arrangements are being made by an Oconto Funeral home.

Schultz was born Jan. 7, 1940, in Oshkosh and lived in Menasha for the last seven years. He graduated from Menasha High school in 1957 and was employed at the Kimberly-Clark corporation.

Schultz was a member of the engineer battalion in the army reserve unit at Appleton.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Trinity Lutheran church, Menasha, with the Rev. Walter Lichtsinn, pastor, in charge. Burial will be in Lakeview Memorial park, Oshkosh.

Friends may call at the Laemmrich Funeral home, Menasha, from 3 p.m. Tuesday to 11 a.m. Wednesday and at the church after Wednesday noon.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Schultz, Menasha; his brother, Gordon, Menasha; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Schultz, Oshkosh.

Used Percentages

According to the article, Bess E. Dick, the committee clerk who compiled the report, said she estimated the pattern of spending by simply applying percentages. "You can't do it any other way," she said, adding that members could not keep accurate accounts of their spending.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) was quoted in the article as saying he had not seen the report on the 1959 spending which totaled $54,363.81, and would not look into the circumstances of the "consolidated" report.

The consolidated report of the public works committee also showed such items of spending as a taxi 25 per cent for transportation, 30 per cent on meals and other similarly rounded percentages, the article said. The group spent $10,523 in South America last year.

force dissolution of the parliament.

The more moderate democratic socialists, with 40 seats, are not joining in the walkout. With 288 seats, Kishi's ruling liberal-democratic party has a quorum to carry out business as usual. Some Japanese newspapers speculated the government party would reject the socialist resignations anyway.

The socialists handed their resignations to party Chairman Inejiro Asanuma. He is expected to hand them to the house speaker tomorrow.

Kyodo news service reported that the government would indirectly enlist Emperor Hirohito to counter the leftist agitation against the Eisenhower visit.

The emperor is regarded above politics in Japan, and Kyodo said the government plan was to emphasize in all announcements that the president is coming as the guest of the emperor—not as the personal guest of Kishi.

Officially every "state guest" to Japan is the emperor's guest. By playing down Kishi's role, the government hopes to soften the political implications of the visit which the leftists have linked to the security treaty.

vicinity to search Mrs. McCracken. Before Mrs. Schelling could comply, Mrs. McCracken snatched a revolver from her handbag and Hayes grabbed Wilde's service revolver.

The couple forced the others in the car, with the policeman at the wheel, and fled. Agency employees notified police and a general alarm went out.

As the car roared into South St. Louis county, Hayes ordered a stop and shoved out Patrolman Wilde, telling him to warn other police to stay away.

Off the car sped again, this time with Portell at the wheel.

Illinois police had a roadblock set up three miles south of Waterloo, Ill., on U.S. Route 3. As the fugitive car screeched to a halt, police quickly surrounded it.

Hayes and Mrs. McCracken were booked in St. Louis county on suspicion of kidnapping, assault with intent to kill and stealing.

$25,000 Loss In Barn Fire Near Chilton

Chilton — A fire Saturday evening, believed to have been caused by lightning leveled a 36 by 96 foot barn on the Ray Bennin farm, route 2, Chilton. Damage estimates reached $25,000 for the blaze, which destroyed about 13 head of dairy cattle, 30 to 35 tons of hay, some straw and a trailer stored in the building. Several severely burned cattle may have to be destroyed. Thirty cattle escaped the blaze. The wooden roof of a concrete silo was burned off but a modern, concrete block milkhouse attached to the barn was saved. The Chilton fire department was summoned about 7 p.m. and stood by until almost 2 a.m. Several young Bennin children, who were playing outside, discovered the fire. Other members of the family were in the stable portion of the building.

Ship Hits Tower Of Bridge Tender At Green Bay

Green Bay —An Israeli freighter hit the Walnut street bridge control tower Sunday night, forcing the brigetender to flee to safety. The starboard bow of the Tappuz of Haifa struck the tower, according to the bridge attendant Harry Schaut. The forward deck smashed windows, sprung the frame and shattered recognition lights on the operating panel. Schaut thought the tower would be demolished. He fled from the building but returned to lower the bridge after the Tappuz cleared the span. The Israeli ship was heading out of the Green Bay harbor when the accident occurred.

Duszynski Writes Article on Stump Removal in Appleton

An article by Director of Public Works Edwin Duszynski on tree stump removal in Appleton has been published in the June issue of American City magazine. Duszynski explains the project was started in July 1959 strictly as a public relations program, creating good will between the city and property owners and helping to beautify the city. He notes the cost was justified because the work is done only on terraces along streets, which is actually city property. Street department men do the work, and the largest cost per item was the power stump removing machine, about $2,400. A set of teeth for the machine costs about $17 and lasts about 24 hours. Property owners excavate around the stumps and cut most of the roots.

Ship Hits Tower Of Bridge Tender At Green Bay

Green Bay —An Israeli freighter hit the Walnut street bridge control tower Sunday night, forcing the brigetender to flee to safety. The starboard bow of the Tappuz of Haifa struck the tower, according to the bridge attendant Harry Schaut. The forward deck smashed windows, sprung the frame and shattered recognition lights on the operating panel. Schaut thought the tower would be demolished. He fled from the building but returned to lower the bridge after the Tappuz cleared the span. The Israeli ship was heading out of the Green Bay harbor when the accident occurred.

Duszynski Writes Article on Stump Removal in Appleton

An article by Director of Public Works Edwin Duszynski on tree stump removal in Appleton has been published in the June issue of American City magazine. Duszynski explains the project was started in July 1959 strictly as a public relations program, creating good will between the city and property owners and helping to beautify the city. He notes the cost was justified because the work is done only on terraces along streets, which is actually city property. Street department men do the work, and the largest cost per item was the power stump removing machine, about $2,400. A set of teeth for the machine costs about $17 and lasts about 24 hours. Property owners excavate around the stumps and cut most of the roots.

New Health Bill Labeled More Realistic

Medical Care Cost To Be Shared by State, Federal Units

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay, a member of the house ways and means committee, today introduced the bill on health care for the aged which was voted in his committee as "more realistic" than the one sponsored by Rep. Aimee Forand, Byrnes, chairman of the house Republican policy committee, said that the new bill

"avoids the extremely dangerous pitfalls" of the Forand measure.

Share Costs
The bill tentatively approved requires participation by the individual states, Byrnes said, to the extent that each state must set up its own program to provide medical care for those elderly persons who are in need of it but who are unable to pay for it themselves. The federal government would then help share the expense of the program.

"The committee proposal covers the basic medical care facilities," Byrnes declared. "This would include member of the house ways and means committee, nursing home and means committee described the bill on health care for the aged which was voted in his committee as "more realistic" than the one sponsored by Rep. Aimee Forand, Byrnes, chairman of the house Republican policy committee, said that the new bill primarily based on the individual state's ability to pay. Byrnes said that the federal government's share ranges from a low of 50 per cent to a high of 65 per cent.

Although his committee's bill does not go to the extremes found in the Forand bill, Byrnes said it does give the "assurance that no older person in need of medical care will be denied it by reason of his financial inability to pay for it."

Summit Gives Prestige to Red Regime

Dictators Can Mistrust Talks As Weakness

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — No candidate is going to be elected president of the United States this year who is willing to know to Nikita Khrushchev by participating with him in a so-called "summit" conference.

No candidate is going to be elected who is willing to gloss over the insults flung at the president of the United States at Paris.

Lawrence

There is every evidence that the American people do not believe in appeasement and do believe in the integrity of their own government.

Instead of the pettifoggery and carping criticism which the senate foreign relations committee has allowed to become dominant in its so-called "inquiry," the American people would like to see some sign of American sturdiness and forthrightness expressed by the same committee, and an exposure to the world of the utter hypocrisy of the Soviet government in its distorted concepts of international relations.

Recognize Dictatorship
The real issue is not what measures America took to protect itself against a regime that has threatened the people of this country with a surprise attack, but why the United States should ever again participate in a "summit" conference.

To recognize and accept dictatorship and give it the prestige of decency, as a "summit" conference inevitably does, is to frustrate the regular channels of diplomacy and to compromise the historic idealism of a free people.

The argument that the United States must deal with Khrushchev, because he is the only man who speaks for the Soviet Union, is the same argument that caused British Prime Minister Chamberlain and French Premier Daladier to go to Munich in 1938 to deal with Hitler. It was a form of appeasement that led to World War II because Hitler misconstrued willingness to go to the "summit" as the weakness of a suppliant begging for peace at any price.

Doom of Summit
Former secretary of state Dean Acheson has consistently opposed "summit" meetings. He asks what purposes ambassadors and ministers serve if not to carry on the vital business of their governments.

He says that if heads of state are called in, this should be primarily to ratify what has already been agreed upon by secretaries of state or ambassadors. Vice President

Nixon sees the handwriting on the wall and the doom of "summit" conferences. He said to a meeting of the South-east Asia Treaty organization on Tuesday in Washington: "While we do not rule out any meeting which might contribute to the cause of peace, no encouragement. The truth certainly the world will now have greater confidence in the traditional methods of diplomacy and in discussions in the United Nations than in the summitry on which Mr. Khrushchev has in the past insisted."

President Eisenhower stood out a long time against "summit" conferences. He insisted that there must first be some evidence of probable agreement on pending questions. But he succumbed to the pressure—mostly from Democratic party stargazers—that an American president couldn't refuse to go to such meetings.

Nikita Khrushchev demonstrated effectively the fallacy of the idea by his distortions and misrepresentations about what happened recently at Paris. He now says he would have been willing to meet with President Eisenhower in a personal conference but got no encouragement. The truth is he issued an ultimatum and demanded the humiliation of the president as the price of consultation at Paris. The Soviet dictator does not explain why he refused to do business with the prime minister of Great Britain and the president of France, who did meet with him.

The best way to avoid war is to stand firm against "summit" meetings or any other candidate makes part of his platform a promised expression of "regret" to Khrushchev or any other form of European promises to appoint as secretary of state any man willing to appease the communist regime in Moscow.

before Nikita Khrushchev is the concessions made in 1938 at Munich led to war with Hitler.

That's the real issue which the American people will wish to examine, especially if any candidate makes part of his platform a promised expression of "regret" to Khrushchev or any other form of European promises to appoint as secretary of state any man willing to appease the communist regime in Moscow.

eight Green Bay stores Friday afternoon after they were caught in one store.

One of the women, 20, admitted taking $77.46 worth of the loot, and the other, 21, confessed to $46.80 of the pilferings.

The shoplifting spree was ended at the Red Owl supermarket on S. Adams street when Ralph Sternberg, the manager, caught them putting merchandise back on shelves after they apparently noticed they were being watched.

Sternberg called police and his investigation showed a large volume of other stolen items in the woman's car outside. The loot included meat and groceries and articles of clothing. The women were released after questioning and will appear in municipal court here this afternoon.

President of Jewish Seminary Is Noted Archeologist, Historian

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
New York — A reform Jewish theological seminary will be established in Jerusalem next March by an American institution, Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion. The seminary is the oldest existing theological seminary devoted to preparing rabbis.

Sokolosky

Its president, Dr. Nelson Glueck, besides being a rabbi, is one of the world's foremost archeologists. His recent book, "Rivers in the Desert," is a magnificent study of the Negev which is so vital an area in current history. Born in Cincinnati, Dr. Glueck this year celebrated his 60th birthday. The discoverer of King Solomon's copper mines and Solomon's port on the Red sea, Zion-Geber, sealed for almost 2,500 years, he has been able to restore respect for the Bible as an historic document.

A Good Land

Dr. Glueck studied at the universities of Cincinnati, Berlin, Heidelberg and Jena and at the American School of Oriental Research in Palestine. During World War II, he was a field agent for the OSS in the Near East, working among the Arabs.

Dr. Glueck's work in archeology is particularly interesting at this time when the ancient Biblical land is in the news every day. Almost like a detective, this American scholar has followed Biblical place names to establish where they actually were. He worked out the geographical extent of the kingdoms of Edom, Moab and Ammon and has established who were the Nabataeans, one of the most remarkable of post-Biblical peoples.

Taking such a sentence from Deuteronomy 8:7 and 9: "For the Lord thy God bring thee into a good land... a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass," Dr. Glueck went a-searching. At Timna he found the site of the Biblical mines and today the copper industry is being relived. Of this Dr. Glueck said: "The New Seminary. I have always gone on the assumption that the historical statements in the Bible are true. On that basis I have made some of my most important finds."

It takes capacious faith as well as enormous scholarship to use the Bible as a guidebook, but to discover sites in a desert, some of them dating back to 6,000 years, is a magnificent adventure. It is estimated that Dr. Glueck has established at least 450 sites in the Negev over which history has passed as far back as any record of man.

This American has now devoted 30 of his 60 years to proving by the most modern scientific means that the land which God promised to Abraham was as promised.

The reform Jewish seminary which will be established in Jerusalem is part of a group of such schools at Cincinnati, New York and Los Angeles. Jews regard the establishment of the Israeli seminary as a sign of the maturity of American Judaism.

One of the principal misfortunes of the Jews is that throughout the centuries large numbers in each generation lapse from the traditions and habits of their ancestors. Whereas they dislike being "old-fashioned," they take on no new-fashion. They become spiritually and morally rootless. Reform Judaism meets this conflict of the ages by retaining the essence of Jewish tradition and yet making ritual and philosophy acceptable to new times. Reform Judaism is now maturely branching out. Reform Judaism is in itself traditional in the sense that it is flexible except in its essence which is the absolute monotheism of the concept of God and in its insistence upon a spiritual rather than an ethnological concept of the Jew.

contribute campaign labor after the September primary, which suggested that he is out of sympathy with the practice of endorsing a ticket in the primary.

There are several potential claimants in the Republican party leadership to Wiley's seat should he vacate it at the end of his present term. But the consensus of informed party workers is that the senior senator is likely to be nominated without a challenge if he desires it — and he is spreading an abundance of hints that as he feels now he will desire it.

Sen. William Proxmire, Wiley's Democratic and junior colleague in the senate for Wisconsin, recently distributed copies of the proceedings of the senate on Wiley's birthday with transcripts of the series of complimentary speeches made by senators of both political parties.

Most of them emphasized his youthful energy and his cheerful attitude.

"Alexander Wiley is known in Wisconsin and beloved in Wisconsin by all of our citizens in both parties," said Wiley's Democratic colleague.

"He is known for his rugged independence, his unfailing good humor, and his great quality of bringing happiness and joy wherever he goes," Sen. Proxmire continued. Proxmire also noted the kindness he said Wiley showed him when he arrived in the senate after the Wisconsin special election of 1957.

Sen. Wiley May be Candidate in 1962

Hints That if Health Remains Good He'll Seek Fifth Term

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — Sen. Alexander Wiley, 76-year-old dean of Wisconsin public office-holders and one of the senior members of the United States congress, is preparing to extend his long tenure in the elections two years from now.

Wiley

The senator in a variety of ways is serving notice upon his party and upon possible senators in the history of the country.

Sen. Wiley went to Washington in 1938, on the crest of a revived Republican electoral wave in the state, after he had been the Republican party's gubernatorial nominee in 1936 and lost the election to Philip F. LaFollette, then the Progressive incumbent governor.

He has won with good majorities in each succeeding election, although in 1956 he sought but failed to get the official endorsement of the Republican campaign organization. He defeated the endorsed aspirant narrowly in the primary, and went on to win with comparative ease in the final election in November.

Some political friends report that the vigorously healthy senior senator also likes the prospect of becoming the oldest man in the senate, which would be likely to be his distinction if he wins another six year term.

First Won In 1938
Should he serve out a fifth term, for an aggregate of 30 years, he would have a record matched by only a handful of

250 Firemen of Volunteer Units Join in School

Field Drills Held On Extinguishing Various Type Fires

Kimberly — Approximately 250 volunteer firemen representing 35 units from Northwestern Wisconsin assembled at Kimberly Sunday to participate in a fire safety training school.

After registration at 9 a. m., the firemen attended instruction and training classes in the high school auditorium with representatives of the state vocational and adult school, Madison, teachers from Iowa State college and representatives of the fire insurance bureau conducting.

Morning sessions included ventilation at fires, pre-fire planning for rural areas and high tension power line hazards. The latter was particularly impressive as it consisted of actual demonstrations on how tree limbs, kite string and other objects could cause death when coming in contact with power line.

After a dinner in the school gym, firemen assembled on the drill field near Maes avenue for fire fighting demonstration and practice under the scrutiny of the instructors. Fire host tests and fire fighting techniques were demonstrated.

Volunteer Firemen Attending a fire safety school at Kimberly Sunday had the chance to practice on various types of fires including car, building, debris and oil. Shown are some of the 250 firemen from 35 volunteer groups practicing during the afternoon sessions.

Various types of extinguishing agents were tried on different fires. A wooden 1-story structure with furniture and other household equipment inside was lighted to give firemen the opportunity to gain experience in knocking down a fire thus enabling them to get inside the structure and perhaps carry out rescue work.

Firemen also practiced on two huge piles of old rubber tires, on piles of discarded lumber, paper and other easily ignitable debris, magnesium chips and finally oil fires. The strong westerly winds carried the smoke up and away rapidly although families living in the immediate area of the drill field were inconvenienced, particularly by the heavy, black oil fire smoke.

Concluding the day's activities was a lunch and refreshments at the village hall. Firemen from Kimberly, Combined Locks, and the town of Buchanan cooperated in staging the safety school.

Traffic Fatalities Average 1 Every 11 Hours in 1959

Madison — Highway accidents in Wisconsin in 1959 claimed a life every 10.7 hours and caused an injury every 17.5 minutes.

The annual report of the state traffic patrol showed there were 67,603 reported Wisconsin accidents in which there was a fatal or non-fatal injury or property damage totaling more than $100.

The economic cost of last year's road accidents was estimated at $107,000,000.

A breakdown on violations leading to accidents showed that: Thirty-three per cent were

Keep Planting Trees, Nelson Tells Industry

Governor, Paper Company Executive Speak At Forest Products Laboratory Anniversary

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson says that Wisconsin and the paper industry must continue their tree planting programs to help keep 40,000 million workers on payrolls and to provide Wisconsin and local governments with 26 million dollars in tax income annually.

The chief executive and a paper mill executive discussed the progress that has been made in trying to help the timber and pulp industry to self-sufficiency. They spoke at the U. S. Forest Products laboratory which celebrated its 50th anniversary.

Nelson said that the state had stepped up its seedling transplant program as much as 146 per cent a year in recent years. Six state-owned nurseries turned out and distributed 69 million trees at cost in the past two years, he blamed on illegal speed, 16 per cent on being in a wrong lane, 13 per cent on failure to yield the right of way, 9 per cent on following too closely and 7 per cent on inattentive driving.

The report also showed that the 250-man traffic patrol force: Logged more than 7,000,000 on-the-job miles.

Conducted equipment safety checks on 100,074 vehicles. Issued 40,438 citations for moving hazardous violations.

Issued 27,379 written warnings, and, arrested 660 drunken drivers.

said, and have a current budget for 90 million trees.

Stanton W. Mead, Wisconsin Rapids, president of the Consolidated Water Power and Paper company, said that his five mills now can make out of most trees, bleaching the hardwood fibers of oak, ash, elm, maple, birch and popple. The process was developed at the Madison laboratory.

He said that during the winter of 1958-59 his company bought 20,000 cords of wood, truck-delivered from within a 50-mile radius, for which woodlot producers received $620,000.

Dr. V. L. Harper of Washington, chief assistant in charge of research for the Forest service, reported that facilities and staff of the laboratory here would be doubled in the next five years.

Dr. Harper said that the expansion program would mean addition of 400 technicians and other employees. Construction and equipment additions, he said, would total about $7,500,000.

Two Arrested For Entries at Lake Homes

Milwaukee Pair Nabbed by Hayward Police

Chilton — A series of cottage breakins along Lake Winnebago's east shore in Calumet county were cleared up with the recent arrest by Hayward police of two Milwaukee men, according to Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky.

Kosmosky questioned the two suspects, Joseph J. Dano, 36, and Edward G. Matching, 33, in regard to attempted safebreaking at the Cooperative Service store and New Holstein High school as well as the lakefront.

Matching, in a signed statement, admitted entering from three to eight cottages and implicated Dano. Both, however, denied the safebreaking attempts. Burglarized cottages included one owned by John Bartz located near Stockbridge Harbor; the summer home of A. W. Huber, Milwaukee, at Maple Heights beach, town of Brothertown, and the cottage of Henry Zimmerman, Milwaukee, in the town of Stockbridge. All were reported during March and April.

Stolen were guns, binoculars, fishing gear, appliances, clothing, groceries, some money and miscellaneous items. Much of the loot, according to the suspects, is cached at West Allis. Some was recovered at Hayward, Kosmosky said.

Dist. Atty. Franklin Schmeider, is expected to issue a warrant for the pair's arrest today.

BY PHYLLIS MONG

Oshkosh — "I can't wait to tell my college roommate," bright-eyed and vibrant as Sara Lindsay of Manawa she accepted the responsibility of being an Alice-candidate at the dinner at the Raulf hotel Saturday night.

Both Miss Lindsay and Miss Hull are brown-eyed brunettes, but there the similarity ends.

Miss Lindsay, the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kneale Lindsay, Manawa, is a first-year premedical student at the University of Wisconsin. She and her roommate had entered the Alice contests "for fun" but Sara has already found Alice's day can be a grueling, however rewarding, experience. Her roommate will compete in the Racine district contest next Saturday.

Power Service to Central Oshkosh Disrupted by Fire

Electricity Cut Off Twice; Bridge, Traffic Affected

Oshkosh — Electrical service to central Oshkosh was disrupted twice Sunday because of a fire at the Wisconsin Public Service plant at 305 Ceape street.

Powers was off for approximately two hours Sunday afternoon when a 400 volt switch and gear panel were damaged by a flash fire. Public service crews managed to get service resumed again at 10:10 p.m.

The Main street bridge was up at the first disruption and couldn't be lowered because of the lack of power. Patrons at two theaters were sent home and auxiliary police were called out to handle the traffic at the Main, Wisconsin and Jackson street intersections because the power

St. Mary Plans to Drop First Grades

Space Needed for Upper Grades; Discontinuance Begins in 1962

Menasha — St. Mary parish plans to abolish its three first grades, one a year, beginning September, 1962.

If present plans hold, the school will have no first grade program by September, 1964.

The Rev. Joseph Becker, St. Mary pastor, pointed out that increasing enrollments will dictate providing more space in the school buildings, either by building another addition or by cutting out the first grades, which will have the effect of providing one new classroom a year. Second to eighth grades will not be affected, except that more space will be available.

Supt. of Schools M. J. Geagan, who has been informed of St. Mary's plan, said Mendle. Tea House Built on Grounds

Neenah — The spacious grounds surrounding the Clark home were designed and supervised by Annette Hoyt Flanders, Milwaukee landscape architect, who stayed with the Clarks during the period of planning and planting.

Off the dining room, which overlooks the grounds, is an airy, flower-filled morning room from which the visitor can see the tea house. In this room, amid the fountain and many plants, is a brass-topped table from Egypt and a colorful, round plaque, depicting Aurora, goddess of the dawn, which was a wedding present from Italy.

Portraits
Family portraits are in predominant places. In the living room is a James Montgomery Flagg sketch of Mrs. John Catlin, the Clark's daughter. On the walls the oak-paneled library is a portrait of Mr. Clark's father in the uniform of a Civil War captain. In the upstairs hall, there is a handsome chest-on-chest which the Clarks found in New Orleans on their wedding trip.

The bedroom, connecting to the master suite, contains some of Mrs. Clark's favorite pieces, a set of fine French prints, a portrait from Italy and a pair of jade green glass birds, made in France. The room is done in shades of delicate green and apricot and has furniture of rare tiger maple.

Mrs. R. E. Risley will be in charge of hostesses at the Clark home and will be assisted by the Mmes. Paul Bowman, A. P. Engebretson, Irma Kyle, Leon Tolversen, W. A. Draheim, Russell Anderson, Earl Brien, Owen Hanson, John Ashenbrucker and Lyle Landrum. Tickets from Mrs. L. R. LaDouceur or any AAUW member.

Tour-Goers to See Art Objects Collected by Clarks on Travels

Visitors on the "Homes Beautiful" tour will see pieces collected by the Clarks on their many travels. In the living room is a butler's desk, pictured at the right, which is several hundred years old. The Heppelwhite dining room furniture is from the late 18th century and in one corner of the dining room, far right, stands an outstanding example of an antique mufinier table, which the Clarks brought back from their wedding trip. A tea house photo below, is surrounded by a myriad of flowers. The master suite on the second floor which will be opened to visitors has two connecting bedrooms. One, in tones of mauve and pink, has an antique sleigh bed, upper right photo, and a massive matching dresser. Shown in the entrance hall, upper picture, are Mrs. Edgar Schmiel and Mrs. Stanton Charlton, who are on the hostess committee.

Neenah High Athletes Set 5 School Marks

Schoefer, Stilp
Account for Four;
Lintner Holds 5th

Neenah — Members of the Neenah High school track squad manufactured five new school records and one new state standard in the recently-concluded competition.

The state mark, of course, went to Mike Lintner, who copped the 880 a week ago at Milwaukee in 1:58.8. That time also smashed a school mark set by Jim Kuehl 15 years ago.

Hurdler Jerry Schoefer posted 15.0 in the high hurdles and 21.1 in the lows to better marks he had set previously this spring. He owned standards in both events going into this season.

The other two records were accounted for by Mowry Stilp, who threw the shot put 32 1/2 feet, 8 1/2 inches in the Green Bay sectional and the discus in the 148 feet, 4 1/2 inches in the Mid-Eastern conference meet. He established a new shot put record in almost every meet and bested by 2 1/2 inches the discus record held by Ralph Syring.

Leading Scorer Schoefer led the Rockets in scoring with 71 points, according to the unofficial totals. Stilp collected 68 and Winn Zimmerman totaled 57. Stilp recorded 11 firsts, Schoefer nine and Zimmerman five.

Other unofficial totals included Lintner 51 1/2, Tom Smith 41, Dave Burton 27, Dave Neubauer 20, Tom Mott 19, Dale Howe 19 1/2, Leonard Peterson 18, Steve DenDooven 18 1/2, Tom Callin 17, Jack Stroemer 14 1/2, John Christianson 13 1/2, Dick Koehn 13, Jim Weinke 9 1/2, Phil Dennis 6 1/2, Bob Walker 5 1/2 and John Powell, Marshall Anderson and Jim Winters 5 each. Six others scored four or less.

Not included in the individual totals are six points gained for a second place in the Appleton triangular.

The Rockets won duals over two Rivers and Menasha, triangulars against Clintonville — Kimberly and Kaukauna — New London, placed second in the conference meet, third in the sectional, posted eight points at the state meet and 3 1/2 in the Madison West relays.

St. Mary Evens League Record

Menasha — St. Mary evened its Menasha Church Softball league record at 1-1 by downing St. Timothy 4-2 in a makeup game Thursday night. Vogel was the winning pitcher and Fredrickson was charged with the loss. Both pitchers allowed four hits.

According to the unofficial standings, Trinity has a 3-0 record. St. John Juniors and St. Patrick 1-0, St. Mary and St. Timothy 1-1, Bethel 0-1 and St. John Seniors and First Congregational 0-2.

Jitter's Whips Fond du Lac 9-2

Collects 6 runs in Fourth; Brinkman Pitches 5-Hitter

Menasha — Jitter and Joe's evened its record at 1-1 by defeating Guenther Supply of Fond du Lac 9-2 Sunday night at Jefferson park.

Jitter's scored two runs in the first inning, saw Fond du Lac tie the score in the second, 8 1/2 inches in the Green Bay sectional and the discus in the 148 feet, 4 1/2 inches in the Mid-Eastern conference meet to collect six in the meet. He established a new shot put record in almost every meet and bested by 2 1/2 inches the discus record held by Ralph Syring.

Lee Peterson had two doubles and Carl Springer and Earl Gregorius two singles each to pace the winners. Larson had a pair of singles Zimmerman totaled 57. Stilp recorded 11 firsts, Schoefer nine and Zimmerman five.

Other unofficial totals included Lintner 51 1/2, Tom Smith 41, Dave Burton 27, Dave Neubauer 20, Tom Mott 19, Dale Howe 19 1/2, Leonard Peterson 18, Steve DenDooven 18 1/2, Tom Callin 17, Jack Stroemer 14 1/2, John Christianson 13 1/2, Dick Koehn 13, Jim Weinke 9 1/2, Phil Dennis 6 1/2, Bob Walker 5 1/2 and John Powell, Marshall Anderson and Jim Winters 5 each. Janz, a junior student at Oshkosh State college, is the first Democratic candidate to announce himself for this fall's elections.

The assembly post is now held by Arnold J. Cane, Menasha, a Republican.

Register of Deeds Bernice L. Fuller has taken out nomination papers for a fourth term in that post. She is seeking the Republican nomination. Miss Fuller, who lives at 676 Central street, Oshkosh, was deputy register of deeds for 13 years before being elected to the post six years ago.

Menasha — A proposed park policy and use ordinance, under consideration several months, was discussed in part at last week's meeting of the park and recreation board.

A further meeting on it will be at 7 p.m. June 13. The board inspected the municipal swimming pool and was informed that about $1,000 in pool passes already have been sold.

Recreation Director Robert Vanevenhoven told the board that the "Blue Inn," teenage group sponsored by the department, had bought a duplicating machine for the park and recreation office from dance admission funds. The cost was $345.

Park Supt. Harry Kargus reported completion of a new baseball diamond at Jefferson park, an extremely late start in planting flowers in parks (because of poor weather) and installation of Glen Schroeder and Jim Vandewettering, a passed ball, a 2-run single by Verne Romenesko and a single by Rog Gerritts.

The winners added one in the third on Don Vandewettering's single and Romenesko's double, and one in the seventh on a walk and another Romenesko 2-bagger—for his fourth RBI.

Kansas Again Triumphs in CCC Meet

Three Records
Set; Tidwell Drops
Out After Relay

Milwaukee — The strong University of Kansas track team, performing without its ace, Charlie Tidwell, in his specialties, had little trouble sweeping to its fifth straight Central Collegiate conference championship Saturday night at Marquette stadium.

The Jayhawks scored 71 points while taking six events on the rain-swept field to easily outdistance trackmen from 24 other schools in the 35th annual games.

Tidwell set CCC records in the 220-yard dash and 220-yard low hurdles a year ago. He arrived at the stadium only an hour before the afternoon trials and later complained of sore leg muscles.

No Chances
After anchoring Kansas to victory in the 440-yard relay, he decided against taking any chances on the wet cinders and withdrew from his specialties. Tidwell is rated a top Olympic prospect and wanted to take no chances of incurring serious injury before the Olympic trials.

Ron Gregory of Notre Dame set a meet record of 1:50.2 in winning the 880-yard race. He lowered the mark of 1:50.9 set by Lowell Janzen of Kansas in 1957 and earned the meet's outstanding performer award.

Other CCC records were set by Solomon Akpata of Michigan State with a mark of 47 feet, 5 inches in the hop, step and jump and by Bob Hanneken of Missouri who was clocked in 14:18.2 in winning the 3-mile run. Jim Baker of Missouri equalled the meet record of 47.5 in winning the quarter-mile around two turns.

Ko's double, and one in the seventh on a walk and another Romenesko 2-bagger—for his fourth RBI.

Coach Berres Behind Success Of Kemmerer and Baumann

Chicago — A pair of bargain basement pitchers who were shunted off by second division clubs have revived Chicago White Sox pennant hopes.

Righthander Russ Kemmerer and southpaw Frank Baumann hurled two 2-0 victories over the Kansas City Athletics Sunday, giving the sagging Chicago pitching staff a much needed transfusion.

Behind the sudden success of Kemmerer, 29, and Baumann, 26, is Ray Berres, the White Sox pitching coach. Both hurlers give Berres credit for their recent successes, but the modest man who works in the Chicago bullpen says no.

"Give those two guys the credit," says Berres. "They're doing the pitching. I haven't done anything with them."

First Start
Kemmerer, making his first start for the Sox and hurling his first shutout since starting as a rookie with Boston in 1954, says Berres coordinated his timing and rhythm and won't let him throw sidearm anymore.

Baumann, who shut out Detroit last Wednesday in his first start with the Sox, says Berres "changed my delivery by shortening my stride and told me to quit dipping when I reared back to throw. Now I'm releasing the ball from the top of my delivery."

"We knew Kemmerer could throw because he pitched some good ball against us last year," said Manager Al Lopez. We just wanted to nurse him along. He has a great chance of being a great pitcher.

Berres worked with him and got him to quit bending his back when he was rearing to throw. I've said all along Baumann would be a starter for us.

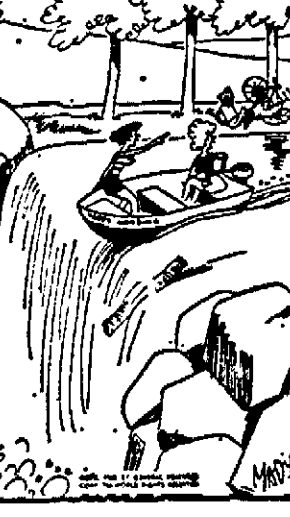

Since joining the Sox, Kemmerer has posted a 2-1 record and has a 1.29 earned run average in 28 innings. Baumann has a 3-2 record and a 1.66 earned run average in 37 2-3 innings.

The Wisconsin product, a long-hitter whose putter sometimes gives her anxious moments, won by three strokes over Betsy Rawls, Wiffi Smith and Mary Lena Faulk in the 72-hole event.

Miss Ziske's winning total was 289, one under par at Hillcrest's 6,500-yard layout. She closed with a par-equaling 37-38-75 after previous rounds of 73, 78 and 73. She earned $1,313.

The 26-year-old former Curtis cup player, who learned her golf on a driving range near her Wisconsin farm home, began the final round tied with Miss Rawls, but the veteran from Spartanburg, S.C., shot herself out of the running with a front nine 40.

$7,800 Scholarships Given at Winneconne

6 Legislative Awards, Five
Forbes Grants Presented Seniors

Winneconne — Scholarships valued at $7,800 were distributed to nine Winneconne High graduates at the commencement program Friday night at the school auditorium.

For placing first in her class, Karen Wentzel received the legislative scholarship which allows her to attend the University of Wisconsin or any state college tuition free.

Russell Brown, second in the class, declined his legislative scholarship as he plans to attend a private university. Receiving it in his place was Janet Fowler.

Four students received legislative grants which take care of their fees at the university or state colleges. These students are Grant Nelson and William Freund who plan to attend the University of Wisconsin. Douglas Korn who will enroll at Whitewater State college and James Kiesow who will attend Stout State college.

Two Scholarships
Nancy Becker received a scholarship to Dana college at Blair, Neb., and also the Winneconne Community school scholarship, formed by money given to the late Gordon R. Leistikow, former superintendent, on his 25th anniversary as a teacher and which he turned over for a scholarship. This will go to her upon completion of her freshman year. The Winneconne businessmen's association donated $50 toward this scholarship.

The Leistikow scholarship created by an insurance policy favoring the school was not awarded this year as none of the graduates plan to attend one of the five private colleges for which the scholarship is granted.

Five students were granted Mary Forbes scholarships which were set up by a late Oshkosh woman to help needy and deserving persons receive a college education. These scholarships are for $300 a year and are renewable. They went to Karen Wentzel, Douglas Korn, Jane Gavin, Ronald Anunson and William Freund.

DEAF MAN PERFECTS SMALLEST HEARING AID

ST. PAUL, MINN. — (Special) — A remarkable midge hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small aid has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a most unusual idea and design in a product for the hard of hearing.

It is especially made for those people who can hear but not understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television, and radio at his ear rather than at a transmitter in the wearer's clothing.

Due to the use of 4 transistors, the user operating cost is extremely low and the instrument weighs approximately 3/4 ounce. It is about the size of a sewing thimble.

Braves Gain Game On Pirates With Doubleheader Split

Rally for 4-1 Win Over Reds After Dropping Opener, 3-2

Milwaukee —— The Milwaukee Braves were a happy and determined lot today as they left for an invasion of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Braves were stymied in a bid to extend a 4-game winning streak Sunday, but bounced back for a doubleheader split with the Cincinnati Reds before a crowd of 28,063 at County stadium.

Juan Pizarro surrendered only five hits in the opener, but three were homers, and the Reds managed a 3-2 victory. The nightcap also was a squeaker before the Braves pushed across three runs in the eighth and took a 4-1 decision.

Happy for Split

After a series of frustrations in the first game, the Braves were happy to gain the split. It moved them to within 4½ games of first place Pittsburgh, loser of a doubleheader to Philadelphia.

In the clubhouse, the players were looking forward to the 3-game set in Los Angeles, starting Tuesday night, and then four games with the second-place Giants in San Francisco.

Many of the players berated themselves for failing to give Pizarro more support in

'Spike' Briggs Critical After Hemorrhage

Bennington, Vt. —— Walter O. "Spike" Briggs, 48, noted sports figure and former president of the Detroit Tigers, lay in critical condition here today following a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was felled on the campus Saturday and rushed to Henry Putnam Memorial hospital here.

Mrs. Briggs said Sunday, "He is in very critical condition. They just can't tell us anything, what the future might hold."

She said he was not in a coma but did not seem to be aware of what was going on.

Louisville, Ky. —— Two years ago, Negro welterweight boxer Rudell Stich won a Carnegie medal for heroism when he saved a Corps of Engineers worker who was saved by Stich in 1958. "I'm shocked over the news. I'm sick over it."

Stich, just back from a boxing tour of Australia and Hawaii, went to the aid of a fishing companion, Charles L. Oliver, when Oliver slipped from a ledge under the dam. Both died in the swirling waters.

The Louisville Negro, his white manager, Edgar "Bud" Bruner, Oliver, and Bruner's son had been fishing below the dam. They were crossing the ledge back to the bank when Oliver, also a Negro, slipped.

Bruner said Stich grabbed Oliver and both went into the river. Stich, wearing heavy, lip-length waders and raincoat, surfaced once.

"Rudell went down and ayeed down a long time. It took like he was trying to t the waders off," Bruner said.

John C. Burns, Jr., saw Oliver and Stich fall as he stood on the shore.

"They drifted down behind the pier. I had in my mind that they might grab hold, so I swam out."

Little Chute — Kaukauna turned back an uprising in the ninth inning to preserve a 6-5 victory in a Fox River Valley Baseball league game here Sunday afternoon.

Bill Lappen came in and fanned Ken Vander Velden for the final out as the Papermakers had men on first and third and one run in.

The win keeps the Klubbers in the league race with a 3-1 record, while the defending champion Papermakers have a 2-3 mark.

3-Run Barrage

Kaukauna overcame a 4-1 LCK lead with a 3-run barrage in the sixth to tie the game. The Klubbers went ahead with a pair in the eighth to make it 6-4.

Joe Van Linn was the winning pitcher for the Klubbers. Lappen faced only Vander Velden in the ninth. Van Linn struck out 10 and was sharp on his control, walking only one batter.

Faye Mehlberg took the loss for the Papermakers. He gave up only five hits and struck out nine but seven walks kept him in trouble throughout the contest. Joe Buss came on in the eighth and finished the game for the losers striking out a pair, walking one and giving up two hits.

The Papermakers scored a pair in the third, Bob Vanden Burgt singled to left, and Manager Floyd Hammen grounded to third, but the throw to first was wild and runners went to second and third. Phil Williams drilled a hit to right that plated Vanden Burgt and Hammen.

Kaukauna counted a run in the fourth when "Butch" Fahrenkrug got to second on a throwing error and scored on "Buck" Edinger's single.

Foxes Sweep Double Bill Behind Thorsland, Barth

Reds' 12-2 Win Paced By Dashner

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

A couple of Topeka pre-season question marks became exclamation points here Saturday night as the Reds handed the Fox Cities Foxes their first home walloping, 12-2.

Billy Joe Dashner, who very nearly was removed from the Topeka roster by Cincinnati brass because the 6-year pro veteran is no longer considered a major league prospect, boomed a pair of home runs — one a grand slammer — to drive in the first five runs.

Gains Third Win

Marv Fodor, who had arm miseries during spring training, registered his third mound victory and lowered his earned run average to 1.41. A right-handed bonus pitcher from Iowa State, Fodor spun 5 and 2-3 games of hitless ball behind a 12-0 lead before easing off to distribute nine relatively harmless singles in the last 3 and 1½ frames.

Three "gopher balls" not only cost starter Chuck Symeon his first Fox Cities loss but ballooned his ERA from

Topeka Garners Only Two Earned Runs in Day-Night Action; Fox Cities 1 Lap Out of First

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Continuing to get the kind of pitching that has pushed their parent Baltimore Orioles into the American league lead, the Fox Cities Foxes swept a doubleheader from Topeka Sunday at Goodland field.

The Foxes copped the afternoon game, 6-4, on Arne Thorsland's 5-hitter and the night contest, 7-2, on Bert Barth's second consecutive 3-hit job. Thorsland and Barth each allowed just one earned run.

The victories shoved the Foxes back to within one game of first place Cedar Rapids, which beat Burlington, 5-0, in a single game. The Foxes had dropped 11 games behind by losing Saturday night.

Total attendance was 1,518-877 for the opener on a sunny, pleasant afternoon and 641 at the nightcap, on a typically chilly Wisconsin spring evening.

Thorsland game of first place Cedar Rapids, which beat Burlington, 5-0, in a single game. The Foxes had dropped 11 games behind by losing Saturday night.

Tonight, the Foxes open a 3-game series with Lincoln.

Left-hander Pat Gillick (1-1), one of the club's earned run leaders (2.26), is slated to go for the Foxes.

Barth Clinches Berth

There are a couple of interesting sidelights to tonight's game. During the clubs' recent series in Lincoln, veteran Chiefs' Manager Ira Hutchinson reportedly got into a shoving match with a couple of the Foxes, Jim Lehigh and Cal Ripken.

Providing "background music" for the goings-on, if any is needed, will be Bill Schuler's 10-piece band from Schuler's Schack in Combined Locks. Also in the Schuler retinue will be Bill's 156-pound dog and a group of about 40 Combined Locks fans.

Barth, who opened the season as the Foxes' left fielder, probably clinched himself a spot in the regular pitching rotation with his great job Sunday night.

Retires 14 Straight

The handsome, 21-year-old right-hander struck out 11 batters and walked five and retired the last 14 men he faced in succession.

Barth (2-1) had hurled a 7-inning 3-hitter to beat Green Bay, 3-1, Tuesday night in his first start of the season. Signed to a pro contract by Orioles' Manager Paul Richards, Barth has never stuck at one position during his pro career, playing with seven clubs. He did no pitching last season.

Conley, Owens Hand Pirates Double Shock

Giants Bow to Cards but Gain One-Half Game

By The Associated Press

You'll have to pardon the Pittsburgh Pirates if they refuse to sympathize with the oft-defeated, much-depleted and last-seeded Philadelphia Phillies.

Expected to fatten up their first-place National league lead Sunday over the undermanned Phillies, who have four men in the hospital and others who at times play like sick men, the Pirates absorbed two stunning defeats in which they were held to a total of one run. The scores were 2-0 and 4-1.

Scatters 10 Hits

In the opener, Pittsburgh managed 10 hits off Gene Conley but the 6-8 right-hander did not permit a Pirate runner to go beyond second base. The Bucs also outthrew the Phils in the nightcap, but they barely avoided being shut out again, by Jim Owens, thanks to Dick Stuart's homer in the eighth.

St. Louis' 9-4 triumph over San Francisco enabled the Pirates to finish the day with a 1-game lead over the Giants. Milwaukee closed to within 4½ of the lead by splitting with Cincinnati. The Braves won, 4-1, after Cincinnati had copied the opener, 3-2. Chicago's Cubs outslugged Los Angeles, 12-8.

The Phils got five hits in each game to hang tough defeats on Bob Friend and Harvey Haddix. First-inning singles by Bobby Del Greco and Tony Taylor and Tony Cur-

Milwaukee Fence-Busters Turn Bunters to Gain Twin Bill Split

BY DAVE O'HARA

Milwaukee — The Milwaukee Braves have added a new weapon to their awesome home run offense. The fence-busters are ready to bunt at any time.

The Braves turned to the bunt Sunday to earn a double-header split with the Cincinnati Reds. Frustrated during a 3-2 loss in the opener, Milwaukee bounced back to take the nightcaps 4-1 on a 3-run eighth and veteran Warren Spahn's brilliant relief pitching.

A popped-up bunt on an attempted squeeze by Billy Bruton in the ninth cost the Braves a chance at victory in the opener. But the misfired strategy didn't discourage Manager Charlie Dressen and his charges.

Manilla Doubles With the score deadlocked 1-1 in the eighth of the second game, Felix Manilla doubled to left. That brought up Eddie Mathews, who topped the majors with 46 homers last year and has 11 this season. Following him were Hank Aaron, a .355 hitter with 39 homers a year ago, and Joe Adcock, a veteran slugger who clouted 25 homers in 1959.

Most in the crowd of 28,063 figured Mathews would be swinging for the downs. So did the Reds.

Instead, Mathews laid down a neat bunt near the first base

Meet in 18-Hole Playoff for Memphis Open Title

Memphis, Tenn. — A dramatic playoff in the $30,000 Memphis open today had three of golf's greats—Ben Hogan, Tommy Bolt and Gene Littler—swinging for top money.

They made the regulation 72 holes over the 6,500-yard par 34-36-70 Colonial Country club course in 7-under-par 273s to top a 144-man field.

Hogan, his game still shaky after a scrambling 73 that cost him the lead, birdied two under pressure to come back up. The Fort Worth hawk carded his final bird on the eighteenth for a final 68.

Making his run after starting the fourth round three strokes off the pace, Bolt shook off a jolting hospital bulletin to make a full-steam finish with birds on 17 and 18 for a 67.

Charged In And Littler charged in from deep in the ranks, leaping 18 names on the scoreboard with a smooth 32-32-64. The slender San Diego pro had taken a 74 on his first 18 and barely made the halfway cutoff.

Bolt was on the sixteenth green when notified that his wife, Mary Lou, was undergoing surgery at a hospital here. She has been ailing since the birth of a son last November.

Physicians said she came through the hour-long operation in good shape. But the scheduled sudden death play-off was switched to an 18-hole round so Bolt could head for the hospital.

Terrors Finish Sixth in State Golf Meet

Madison West wins Title; Manier Leads AHS Scorers

The Appleton High school golf team continued its 1-notch annual advance in state competition Saturday at Green Lake.

After having finished eighth in 1958 and seventh in 1959, the Terrors rose to sixth place this year—with a 36-hole, 4-player total of 660.

Finishing ahead of AHS was new champion Madison West, 614; Racine Park, 635; Shorewood, 644; and Milwaukee Pulaski and dethroned champion Eau Claire, with 657 each.

Madison West's Phil Johnson took the medal with a 149. Baraboo's John Cimarroni won runnerup honors, gained on a hit 151 card for regulation play in left and right and a successful playoff runners scored. Bowers got to against Madison West's Jim second on an infield out and Holt and Racine Park's John scored on Van Linn's single. Bah.

John Manier, a junior, led AHS shotmakers with a total of 158. Senior Mike Smock, the team captain, was second with 164. Other Terror scores that counted in the final total were a 166 by sophomore Dennis Babb and a 172 by junior Jeff Martin.

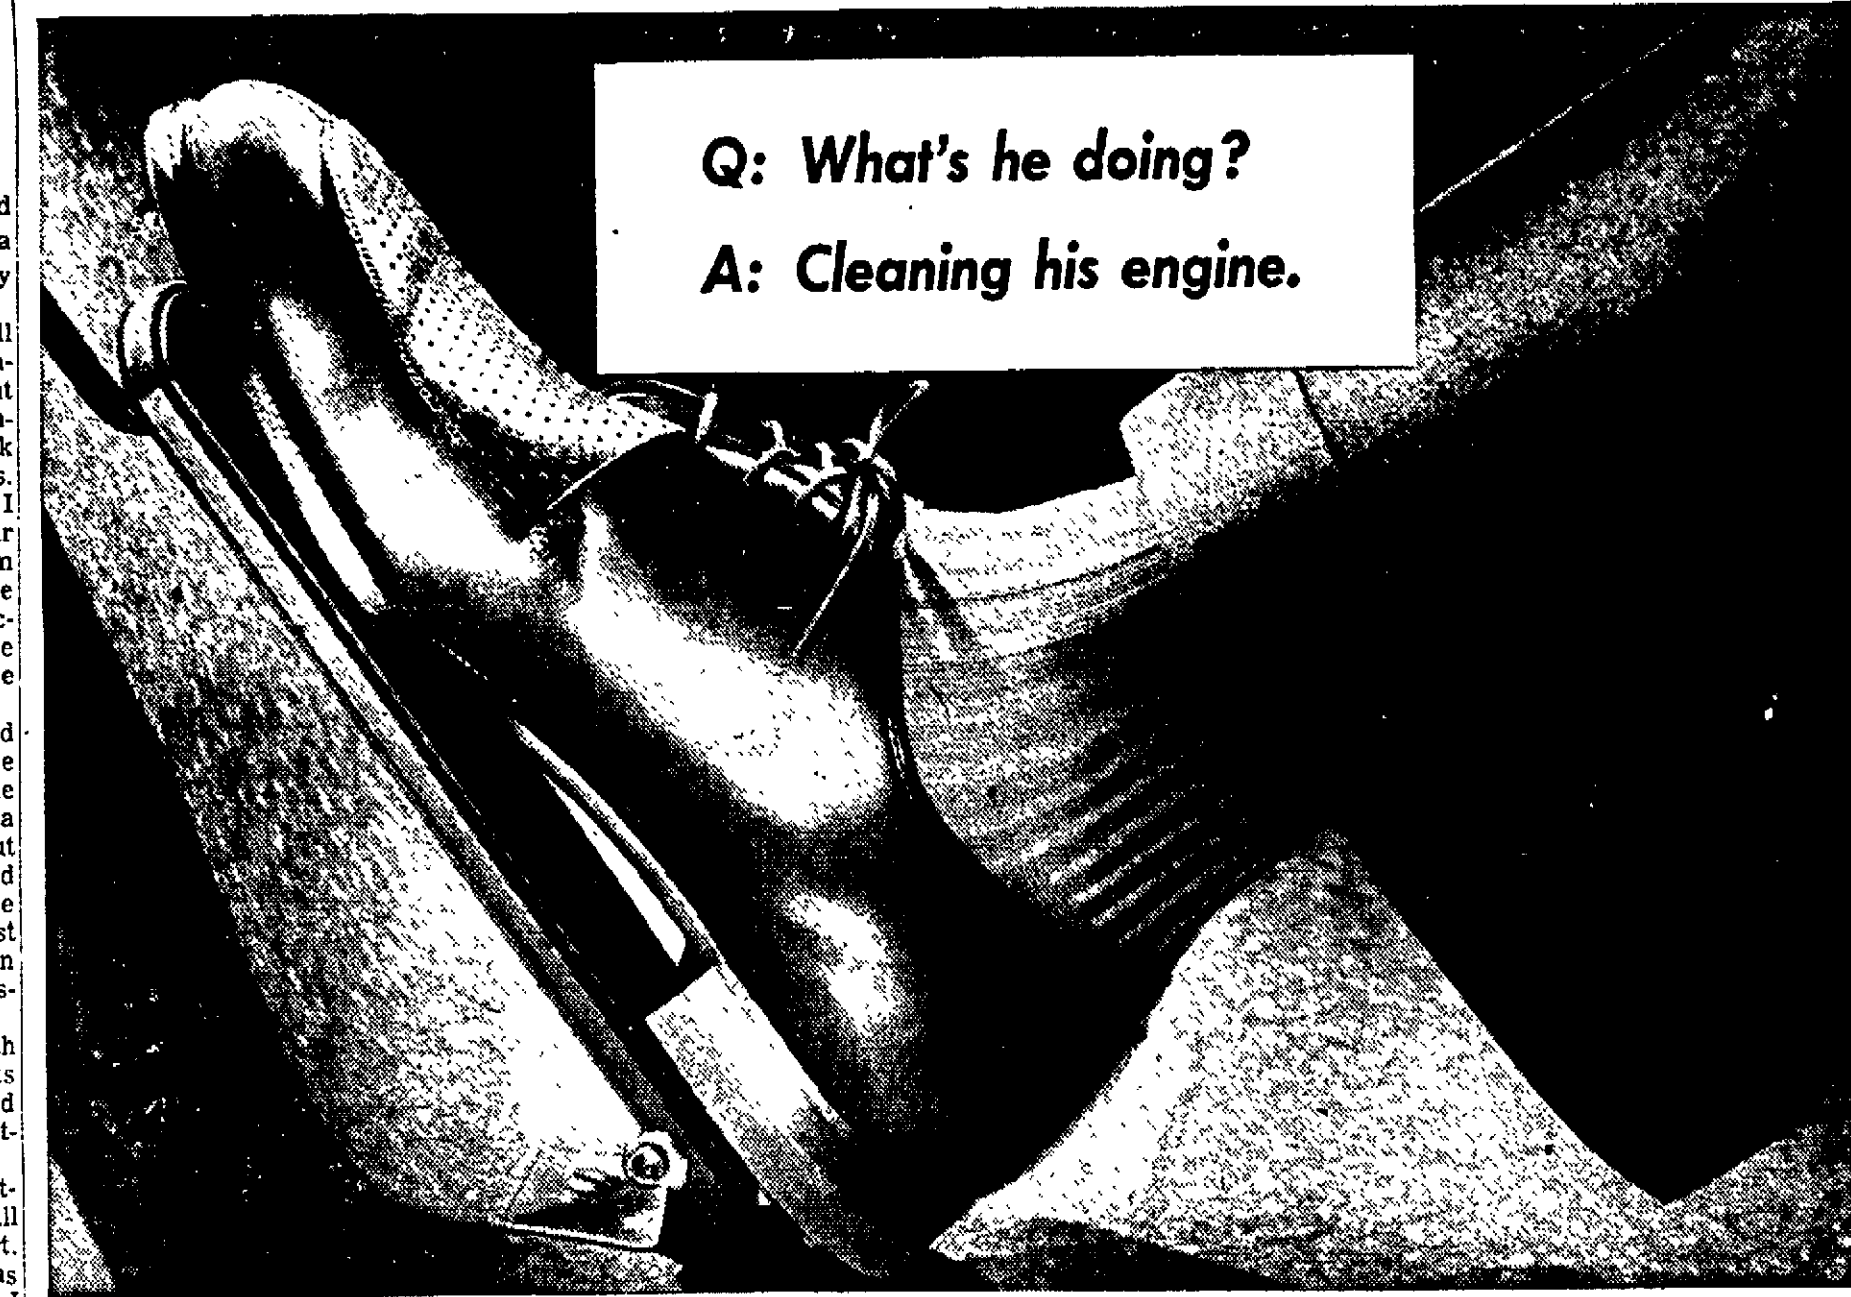

Rounding out the top 12 finishers among the 24 full-team entries, were: LaCrosse Central, 661; South Milwaukee, 672; Lancaster, 673; Fond du Lac and Wauwatosa, 674; and Waukesha, 675.

"Why not do it every day...just by driving"

An engine with dirty "insides" is a costly engine to operate. Every mile you drive, it costs you money you could be putting right back in your pocket.

Mile by mile, as you drive with many gasolines, your engine builds up dirty carbon and lead deposits on cylinder heads, pistons, valves and spark plugs. These hard, baked-on crusts make lively engines sluggish and turn gas-stretching engines into fuel-gulping "gas eaters."

How Do Engines Get Dirty? Mile by mile, as you drive with many gasolines, your engine builds up dirty carbon and lead deposits on cylinder heads, pistons, valves and spark plugs. These hard, baked-on crusts make lively engines sluggish and turn gas-stretching engines into fuel-gulping "gas eaters."

What's The Answer? Engineers know. They say, "Clean up your engine." And with Skelly Keotane Gasoline, you can do it every day—just by driving.

Every mile you drive with Keotane, you are getting your engine cleaner, cleaner, cleaner. And the cleaner it is, the more it runs like a new engine.

How Keotane works: Just as a paperhanger removes old paper by soaking it to dissolve the paste, Keotane "unglues" carbon and lead deposits by dissolving the gum that binds them. The more you drive, the more you clean. Only Skelly has Keotane. Skelly's use of Keotane is covered by U. S. Patent No. 2,878,109.

As Keotane "unglues" carbon and lead deposits and lets them blow harmlessly out the exhaust, power and mileage go up. Gasoline costs go down.

Tests prove a Keotane-Clean engine can deliver an average of 12.7% more mileage, 14.6% more horsepower output and the performance effect of 3.1 extra octane points. Engineers estimate that these and other benefits of Keotane add up to 6.1c extra value per gallon—at no extra cost to you.

Most Economical Gasoline For Any Car These extra value benefits that Keotane gives you over any other gasoline are why we believe that Keotane is the most economical gasoline you can use in any car—including the new "compacts."

Clean Up Your Engine—Just By Driving Try Keotane in your car. See the difference it can make. For best results, use it for at least 3,000 miles. Remember, baked-on carbon and lead can't be "unglued" overnight. But every mile you drive with Keotane, you're doing exactly what engineers recommend to cut your gasoline bills. You're cleaning up your engine. And you're doing it in the easiest possible way—at no extra cost—just by driving.

See your Skelly dealer for Skelly Keotane Gasoline today.

Drive Your Carburetor Clean With New Skelly Regular Gasoline:

Dirty deposits in your carburetor throat (as in unretouched photo at left) disrupt the flow of air your engine needs for smooth idling. When you take your foot off the accelerator, these deposits can cause your engine to die by choking off its air supply. These deposits also cause a "too rich" mixture that wastes fuel.

But new detergent-action Skelly Regular Gasoline with KT-3 dissolves these deposits as you drive (see unretouched photo at right, above). Each time it saves you a carburetor cleaning job, you can figure you've saved $8.50 to $15. Over a year's driving, this represents about 2c extra value per gallon—besides the fuel you save! Drive your carburetor clean, at no extra cost, with new Skelly Regular Gasoline.

Keotane Cleans Carburetors, Too! Many people first notice Keotane's cleaning effect in the carburetor. As Keotane dissolves gum, you may want to have your carburetor re-set to take advantage of its new efficiency.

Words Often Misused: Avoid the expression, "I see him every now and then." Opt for "every."

Often Mispronounced: Vibrato (musical term). Pronounce vee-brah - toe, accent on second syllable.

Often Misspelled: Glare (splendor). Glair (white of an egg).

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: irrational; not endowed with reason or understanding. (Pronounce second syllable "rash," and accent second syllable). "It seemed utterly irrational as I longer to maintain this course."

well itself. From tin scraps cut two pieces shaped like Figure 1 to form the sides of the roof. From another scrap of tin cut an oblong shaped as in Figure 2 which, when bent at the place indicated by the dotted line, will form the roof.

From stiff wire make the frame shown in Figure 3. Solder the uprights to the curved footing. This is to be fitted inside the coffee can. The big cork is the bucket. Provide it with a handle made of fine spool wire. Use brown cord to tie the bucket to the top of the frame as in Figure 3.

Spread glue all over the outside of the coffee can (excepting the bottom) and wind brown cord all around it until the can is covered. Leave no space between the rows of cord.

Place the wire frame inside the can. Fit the tin side pieces inside, next to the uprights of the wire frame. Wrap brown cord around the uprights, binding the tin and wire together. Also wrap cord around the triangular sides of the roof, spreading glue on the tin so the cord will stay in place. Finally put glue on the roof and wrap brown cord all around it until it is fully covered. Glue the roof to the cord-covered gables.

The little wishing well is now complete, except for setting inside it two small, potted vines which will grow and climb over the sides as in Figure 4.

Nelson Sees Kennedy as Solid Favorite

But Refuses to Name Candidate He Will Support

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts is now the "solid favorite" for the 1960 presidential nomination of the Democratic party as Gov. Gaylord Nelson sees it.

The titular head of the Wisconsin Democratic party gave his views to reporters at a news conference, but maintained his earlier position of neutrality among the chief contenders for the top nomination of the party.

While Nelson has evidently concluded that Kennedy is the most likely man to head the ticket on which Nelson will run for governor for a second term, he has been careful to avoid any show of preference. Many of the governor's closest associates are admirers of Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and are working on the draft Stevenson movement.

Delegates Pledged
Kennedy has two thirds of the Wisconsin national convention pledged to him, and may also pick up the votes of some of the others elected to back Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota who were freed of their commitments after Humphrey withdrew from the nomination contest.

Nelson also discounted, in his conference with newsmen, the possibility that any of the state parks will be closed this year because of the failure of the legislature to provide more money through enactment of the admissions fee bill he had sponsored.

Budget Higher
Actually the parks budget will be about $1,250,000 higher during the next two years than during the last biennium, he said, and there is no reason for a curtailment of their functions although desirable improvements will be deferred.

In reply to a question, Nelson also said that Reuben Knutson, veteran member of the state industrial commission, is a "de facto" commissioner and can stay at his job until the governor submits a new nomination to the state senate next year. Nelson originally held that Knutson was disqualified by reason of age, under the state retirement act, but the Republican senate refused to confirm the governor's nominee to replace him and so Knutson stayed on. He is a Republican.

Our Money's Worth Surprise! We've Had a Recession

Sylvia Porter
Now that we're nearly into the second half of 1960, do you know what you lived through the first six months?

A recession. It was a mild recession, a little one that cannot be compared to the depths, in impact and duration to previous downturns of the post-World War II era, but still it warranted the description.

If you define a recession as "a fact or fact of receding," which is the way Webster's legiate defines the word, which is the only logical definition — then a recession in the economy did occur in the first half of this year.

Most Weren't Touched
You may not even have been aware that it was happening. The vast majority of wage-earners and salary-earners weren't touched by the economy's retreat, and because of the relative stability of prices and pay boosts, millions moved up the living standard ladder.

Certainly no government official has come out and flatly said the word "recession" — obvious reasons.

With the clarity of hindsight, though, experts now find plenty of explanations for the dip.

Enticed for Rape of Girl Sylvan Stahl, 24, Manitowoc, Gets 7 Years at Waupun

Wauwatosa — Sylvan Stahl, 24, Manitowoc, was sentenced today to not more than five years in prison at Waupun for rape and two years for taking indecent liberties with a minor when he appeared in circuit court here. The terms run concurrently.

Stahl and Herbert Baer, 21, Nazianz, were arrested for taking indecent liberties with a 15-year-old girl when he appeared in circuit court here. The terms run concurrently.

Stahl pleaded guilty of the charges March 21 when he appeared before Circuit Judge Edmund F. Arps. Stahl was committed to Central State hospital for a 60-day examination and sentenced today after his return.

Stahl is still at the hospital for examination. He pleaded innocent by reasons of feeble-mindedness to the charges.

No other charges, enticing a minor under 16 into a car and indecent liberties and taking liberties with a mentally deficient minor, were dismissed.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Question: Should the ears of our boxer pup be trimmed?

Answer: If you intend to use the dog for show purposes, the rules of the dog show include ear trimming of the boxer and several other breeds. These are mostly German in origin (Doberman, Boxers, Schnauzers, etc.). The operation is performed under a general anesthetic between the ages of 8 and 12 weeks. Post-operative treatment is usually necessary, and includes "taping" the ears to train them to stand at the correct angle. In some parts of the United States, ear trimming is prohibited at the request of humane associations.

(Address your question to Dr. Moller in care of this paper. He will answer selected inquiries in his column, but cannot reply to them.)

Fox Cities Get Full Portion Of Spring

The weatherman served the Fox Cities a full portion of spring Sunday.

A bright sun shone in an almost cloudless sky early in the day. Billowy clouds did little to discourage the sun later in the day. It was a bit cooler than the low 80s experienced several times last week. The high Sunday was 70.

Precipitation over many parts of the nation today was light. Showers fell over Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and into Ohio. Sunny skies were reported in other sections.

The Fox Cities had a cloudy Monday at the start, with some sun around 10 a.m. Clouds, however, again blotted out the sun at 11 a.m.

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — A condition known as "itching piles" is the most distressing for the victim during the day and especially at night. No matter what you've used, here's the good news — here's the good news. For the first time, science found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the itching and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance reduces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germicidal properties also help prevent infection. A one hemorrhoid case after other "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — a discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Bob Allgeyer Hurls 1-Hitter In City League

Kaukauna — Peter And Coenen's Bar won its second game in as many starts Thursday night behind the 1-hit pitching of Bob Allgeyer.

The 14-1 decision over Mullen's Barbers was limited to five innings due to the lopsided score. The winners scored five runs in the first inning on two walks, an error, three singles and a fielder's choice. Other runs were scored in the second, third, fourth and fifth innings on a total of 13 hits.

The lone tally by the losers came in the second on a single by Cy VanderHorst, a sacrifice and an infield out.

To Your Good Health

Frequent Night Urination Can be Symptom of Diabetes

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have to get up every night 10 or 12 times to urinate. I lose sleep. In the morning I am exhausted. What is wrong? — Mrs. M.T."

Of course I can't attempt to say what the cause of your trouble is, but I can suggest several possibilities which are often seen by physicians.

I've written about this type of trouble as it affects men; in women, due to different causes, it can be equally distressing. Certainly the loss of sleep is indeed aggravating.

Anyway, as to the more frequent causes, one is a sagging or relaxation of the bladder, called cystocele. It results in a pouching of the back wall of the bladder, so urination is not complete. A little fluid remains in the pouch. It tends to irritate the lining of the bladder, and nature responds by filling themselves full of liquid urging the bladder to void in the evening and then wondering why they have to get up comes so repeatedly.

Cystocele can result from tissue damage during childbirth, and if not repaired, it can be an early sign of diabetes. It tends to become worse as one grows older. So — the logical thing is to have it repaired by surgery.

Mrs. C. M. writes of a "slight involuntary distention for cataracts. Is this charge," which can be very available as a pamphlet? — embarrassing. Sometimes W.N.V. laughing, or a cough, or No. sir, no pamphlet. And sneeze, or the strain of lifting I would not like the idea to something, is enough to trigger it.

This is another symptom of the same types of basic troubles, cystocele, and occasionally others.

Disease of the kidney can be a factor, since the fluid in the body is not resorbed (that is, purified) by the kidneys and then recycled through the body. The result is a continuous flow of urine into the bladder, day and night, with the urge to void coming frequently and repeatedly.

This may not be one of the more glamorous aspects of medicine, but it is one of the important ones, and when the trouble develops, the sooner you have your doctor identify the exact cause and correct it, the better.

While we are at it, let's add that one of the factors in night urination is (obviously) the consumption of fluids late in the evening, whether coffee, tea, soft or alcoholic drinks, or especially beer in the latter category. Some people, whose systems are in good enough condition otherwise, fill themselves full of liquid in the evening and then wonder why they have to get up.

One other possibility, and not uncommon, should be kept in mind, and that is diabetes, since frequent night urination can be an early sign of diabetes.

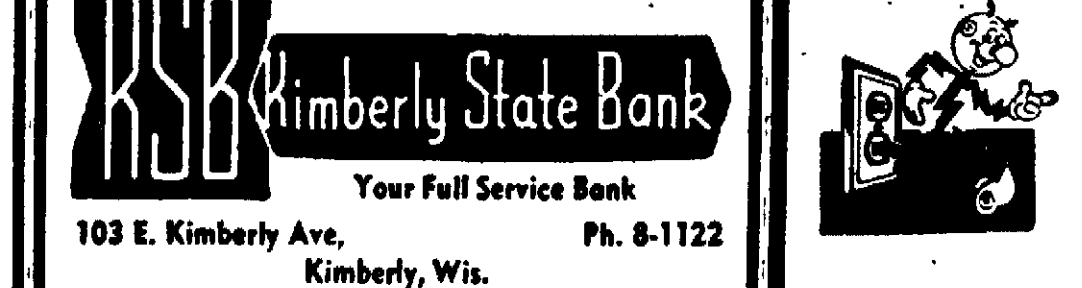

Basically Same

"Dear Dr. Molner: A friend told me that recently you described a new type of operation for cataracts. Is this charge," which can be very available as a pamphlet? — embarrassing. Sometimes W.N.V. laughing, or a cough, or No. sir, no pamphlet. And sneeze, or the strain of lifting I would not like the idea to

82 St. John Seniors Told Goal Is Life Hereafter

Little Chute — The Rev. Paul Vanden Hogan, a St. John High school alumnus, now instructor at Lourdes High school, Oshkosh, told 82 St. John graduates Sunday night their main purpose in this life was to gain eternity with God in the next.

Telling of the sacrifices of parents, teachers and friends to provide them with a good Catholic education, he advised them to go out into the world and spread Christian doctrines of character and charity. Live up to the Christian principles learned in high school and you will be rewarded in the life hereafter, said the Rev. Mr. Vanden Hogan.

Objectives of a Catholic education are to give students a sense of God, a sense of direction, a sense of mission and a sense of responsibility, said the speaker. Advising students to use their talents to help make this a better world and to work toward solving problems of this world, he told them to make the moral standards of God their principles in life, no matter what their profession. Graduation night is cause for joy and happiness, not because you are leaving school, but because you have satisfactorily completed studies and you can now become citizens for God and country, said the speaker. In closing he reminded, "What does it profit a man if he gains the whole world, but suffers the loss of his soul."

Awards Issued

The Rev. Martin Vosbeek, pastor, distributed diplomas and announced major award winners. Adrian P. Ebben was top student scholastically followed by Cynthia Hantschel.

Ebben was also awarded a $50 bond by the Little Chute bank for being tops in religion, was honored for his work in the sodality and won the Knights of Columbus award for ranking highest in science. Miss Hantschel was honored for perfect attendance and won the top history award.

James Wildenberg received the American Legion award as the outstanding senior boy and the $25 bond from the bank for top grade in mathematics. Mary Jo Van Thiel won the Legion auxiliary award as the outstanding senior girl and the top Latin award.

Other award winners were Thomas Janssen, perfect attendance and speech; Edward Hammen, dramatics; Carol Jansen, Sodality; Judy Seifert, Arts, religion; Kathleen Kinder, English; Elizabeth Helf, mathematics; Mary Griesbach, science; Bonnie Poppe, commercial, and Kathleen Vanden Burgt, Future Teachers' award.

Good Practice

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am expecting, and if it is a boy, I am wondering if I should have him circumcised. It seems to me God put that skin there for a purpose.—T.W."

Yes, the purpose originally was protective, but with the development of modern civilization — including such things as trousers — the need is no longer present. So today circumcision prevents many troubles later on, and hence is good practice. The operation is performed very easily in infancy, and with no discomfort to the baby. In older boys and men it is quite comfortable, so my advice is to have it done immediately.

a method of loosening the tissues chemically. Basically it is still exactly the same operation—removing the lens of the eye.

get around that it is "a new type of operation." It is merely a modification which seems to be helpful in some cases—

Shares Up in Active Trade

Steels, Motors Pace Market in Early Afternoon

New York — Steels and motors paced a renewed stock market upturn early this afternoon in active trading.

After a hesitant start, with prices only narrowly higher, steel shares forged gains running from 1 to 3 points. Motors joined the upturn with gains stretching from fractions to about 2.

Oils, rails, chemicals and nonferrous metals tagged along. Their gains were more moderate.

Electronics and aircraft-missiles were irregular.

The steels gathered strength from Wall Street talk to the effect that inventory positions of steel customers were down sharply and that an upturn in new orders was just around the corner.

The rise of steels, motors, and oils was a continuation of the recovery of these "oversold" issues which began late last week as the "romance" stocks lost favor.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Royal Dutch were up about a point each.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.95 at 631.93.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .90 to 217.20 with the industrials up 1.60, the rails up .80 and the utilities unchanged.

Cost of Movie No Guarantee, Says Douglas

'Spartacus' Good
Because of Story,
Not $12 Million Tag

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

Hollywood — Kirk Douglas adds some words about our recent column on what movies cost and whether the public cares.

"I have always operated on the theory that the price tag on a picture is no guaranty that it will be funny, tragic, good or bad. Money does not insure entertainment. If it did, you could get all your laughs merely by looking in your wallet—or weep all your tears," Kirk says.

"We do not plan to put the price tag on the marquee or in the ads for Spartacus. To attract customers, we shall highlight the names of Laurence Olivier, Jean Simmons, Charles Laughton, Peter Ustinov, John Gavin and Tony Curtis.

"We rebuilt Rome—and not in a day—here in Hollywood and spent approximately 14 months. I believe every penny was well spent because we were not photographing a cost sheet but an important story about history's first organized fight for freedom."

Publisher Douglas raised our estimate of his film's reported price from $9 million to $12 million, adding:

"Not that it matters — if 'Spartacus' is as fine a movie

Pat Michon, Movie Actress from Milwaukee, right, poses with actress Sonya Wilde in a scene from "I Passed for White," the film that opens Wednesday at the Appleton theater. Miss Michon, who visited Appleton last week, started her acting career three years ago in musicals, summer theater and road shows. During last year she made her mark in Hollywood TV films, appearing in "Riverboat," "77 Sunset Strip," "Rawhide," "Bourbon Street Beat" and others.

'Sound of Music' Big Hit Despite Critics

Original Cast Album as Popular
As 'King and I' With Hi-Fi Fans

BY HUGH MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If "The Sound of Music" had been written by a couple of unknowns, drama critics would have fallen on its neck in a love feast of idolatry.

But because it happens to have been written by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, two gentlemen constantly in competition with themselves (for want of better opposition), the aisle sitters pecked away at it like fleas on the back of an elephant.

They said it was too sugary, not sophisticated, inferior to as we hope, $12 million was a drop in the bucket. If it isn't, $12 was too much."

Another reaction came from a 20th Century - Fox stockholder who questioned the company's publicized figure of $6 million for "Can-Can." He writes that a company official replied that the cost was actually $3 million.

No Worries

With a box office advance of $2,250,000 and album orders hitting an unprecedented 240,000 in the first week, do Rodgers and Hammerstein worry anymore about what the critics say?

Rodgers didn't go to Austria or to the Trapp family camp in Vermont to get the flavor of the music — "any more than I went to Siam to write Siamese music for 'The King and I' or to the Southwest for 'Oklahoma!'"

But he did spend a few profitable weekends during the summer at the College of the Sacred Heart in Manhattanville, N. Y., absorbing the background for the haunting liturgical music that so beautifully sets the mood of the convent scenes. In the process, he also learned something about some important characters in the show, the nuns.

Popular Recording

The original cast album of "The Sound of Music" ranks with the movie sound track of "The King and I" as Rodgers and Hammerstein's greatest contribution so far to hi-fi fans.

Rodgers music is alternately lush and lively, Hammerstein was never more inventive (rhyming "goatherd" with "Table d'hôte heard"), and musical comedy star Mary Martin, opera singer Patricia Neway (as most delightful Mother Abbess) folk singer Theodore Bikel, television singer Marian Marlowe and no-singer-at-all Kurt Kasznar blend voices beautifully with a bright chorus of seven children and a dozen nuns.

The range is from church music and folk songs to sweeping waltzes (done German band style with a wet tuba) and gavottes.

If this be schmaltz, let's have more of it.

The musical is bound to revive interest in the Trapp Family singers themselves.

Decca obliges with two fine albums of this wonderfully talented group: "Farewell Concert" and "Folk Songs with the Trapp Family." Both should be played immediately before or after "The Sound of Music" album for an evening's escape to the lovely Austrian Tyrol.

Musical Based on Oscar Wilde Work New York Success

New York — One of the most flourishing current off-Broadway musicals is "Ernest In Love," an adaptation of the Oscar Wilde story.

The book and lyrics are mostly by Ann Crosswell, who crosses with this to the legitimate stage. Previously she had written mostly television scripts.
